No Gas Rationing Before March 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration says there will be no rationing of gasoline before March, and a House committee has taken a step to save that fuel by voting to ease auto emission standards.

Pre-Winter Cold Spell Chills Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A pre-winter cold outbreak chilled most of the nation from the Rockies to the Appalachians today.

Temperatures dropped into the lower 30s across a large part of the Deep South. The mercury dropped into single figures from Iowa and Minnesota to Upper Michigan with readings in the 20s from the central and southern Rockies to the Ohio Valley.

A few snow flurries sifted through lower Michigan and Indiana to New York. Light showers dampened southern Texas and southern Florida.

Rain swept a wide area of the Pacific Northwest.

Elsewhere skies were generally clear except for a few clouds over the Far West, the Great Lakes states, New England and southern Florida.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 2 at Rochester, Minn., to 74 at Key West, Fla.

Weather

Sunny and cool today, high near 35. Clear and cold tonight, low near 20. Sunny and warmer Saturday, high, low 40s. Possibility of precipitation, 10 per cent today and zero per cent tonight and tomorrow. Temperatures Thursday were: high, 36; low, 25.

New Blockades Set

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Interstate highways were reported clear of protesting truckers early today. But clusters of trucks which could quickly create new blockades were reported in several areas.

The truckers who have caused major tieups by blocking east-west interstate highways in Pennsylvania and Ohio were reported honoring requests from their leaders for a 24-hour moratorium to give talks with government officials in Washington time to gain results.

Gerald L. Warren, deputy White House press secretary, said Thursday the problems created by the blockades on interstate highways were headaches to be solved by the states and not the federal government.

J.W. "River Rat" Edwards, one of four truckers who met for three hours Thursday with Transportation Secretary Claude S. Brinegar, asked truckers clustered in areas near the East Coast to honor the moratorium.

Charles Pellegrino, a trucking industry journalist who also attended the meeting, said Thursday afternoon that a threatened blockade of Washington had been canceled for 24 hours to allow the talks with transportation officials to continue.

The truckers have variously threatened to shut down Washington and shut down their industry if their demands are not met. Among them are lower fuel prices, higher speed limits, unlimited use of highways, increased maximum weights, priority on fuel used by trucks and standardization of state and local permits and licenses.

It was lowered speed limits and higher costs of fuel which were responsible for the blockades that began early this week and involved hundreds of tractor-trailers at a time in some locations.

Drivers paid by the mile say the regulations are cutting their pay checks and independent drivers say they are unable to make long distance runs because of the uncertainty of fuel availability.

Truckers early today partially closed Interstate 280 at the Ohio Turnpike southeast of Toledo, and the highway patrol reported it was detouring traffic around the area.

The patrol also reported that a 32-mile section of the Ohio Turnpike which crosses the I-280 remained closed this morning.

According to the patrol, that section of turnpike, extending from Exit 4 at Maumee to Exit 6 at Fremont, was never reopened to traffic after being cleared of blockading trucks Thursday. The patrol said it was concerned about potential problems from truckers on I-280.

The truckers blockading I-280 today reportedly had left enough room for cars to pass, but the patrol said traffic was being detoured as a precaution.

Elsewhere in Ohio highway traffic was back to near-normal, but a leader of dissident truck drivers who blocked two of the state's main arteries vowed to continue the protest.

"I'll stay shut down if it takes two days, two weeks or two years," declared Walter Barclay of Omaha, Neb., who has been a spokesman for the truckers since they started blocking roads Wednesday morning. "Ohio is the worst state to drive in, with the prices and the amount of fuel you can get at the truck stop," he said.

He said about 200 drivers met at a truck stop near Hebron east of Columbus Thursday and voted to continue protesting high fuel prices and lowered speed limits.

Barclay was among 40 truck drivers arrested Thursday when the Ohio Highway Patrol dispersed truck blockades on the Ohio Turnpike and Interstates 70, 75 and 280.

The patrol estimated there were 1,200 trucks parked on the turnpike and 300 trucks on I-70 near the Hebron truck stop at the height of the blockade. Smaller numbers blocked I-75 and I-280 in the Toledo area.

Riot-clad highway patrolmen moved in Thursday to break up the blockades. Ohio National Guard tow trucks were used to remove some of the rigs.

Meanwhile, the chief of the Internal Revenue Service's District Stabilization Division in Cincinnati said Thursday a check of truck stops in southern Ohio and Kentucky showed truck drivers were being cheated at the fuel pump.

Harvey Wagoner said operators in about 75 per cent of the stops surveyed were not giving drivers their allocation and, in some cases, were overcharging from one to three cents per gallon of diesel fuel.

Wagoner said the survey was not related to the drivers' blockade. He said the IRS has received a substantial increase in complaints regarding the price of diesel fuel.

Only two of the stops making illegal profits voluntarily agreed to roll back prices to make up for the violation, Wagoner said. If they continue to overcharge, the department can issue remedial orders and the operators face fines of $2,500 to $5,000 per violation, he said.

Ford Takes Office As New Veep

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gerald R. Ford has taken the oath as the nation's 40th vice president and pledged loyalty to President Nixon and devotion to the search for truth and compromise.

The 60-year-old Ford was sworn into office by Chief Justice Warren E. Burger in historic ceremonies Thursday night. Looking on was a packed joint session of Congress, the government's highest officials and a nation watching on television.

Just hours earlier, the House, in which he served for 25 years, had approved him by a 387-35 vote after a debate punctuated by statements that Nixon's Watergate troubles might shortly elevate Ford to the presidency.

"Whatever grounds there are for impeachment can now be judged solely on their own merits by members on both sides of the aisle," Rep. Spark M. Matsunaga, D-Hawaii, said after the vote. He noted that Republicans especially had been reluctant to talk about impeachment while the vice presidency was vacant.

Added to the Senate's earlier 92-3 vote, the House action completed confirmation of the first vice president nominated under the 25th Amendment, enacted in 1967.

Nixon stood nearby. Senators, diplomats, family and friends packed the House chamber, as the veteran House Republican leader took office. Just 57 days earlier Spiro T. Agnew had resigned the vice presidency before pleading no contest to a tax evasion charge.

Ford's eight-minute speech was interrupted 10 times by applause, from both Republican and Democratic sides of the House chamber, especially when he pledged "my dedication to the rules of law and equal justice for all Americans."

His wife held the Bible, on which he swore to "support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic. His four children sat near Mrs. Nixon in a gallery.

After the 15-minute ceremony, Ford led senators back to their side of the Capitol. There he assumed his duties as president of the Senate in a brief initiation ceremony marked by his first, and last, speech to the Senate.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said that, though Ford was nominated by the President and confirmed by the House and Senate, "he is not beholden to either body or to the President."

After 25 minutes handling the vice president's sole constitutional duty, presiding over the Senate, Ford was off to a reception given by his Michigan colleagues.

Democrats repeatedly assailed

President Nixon, while Republicans concentrated on praising Ford rather than defending their embattled President.

Many Republicans said privately what Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said publicly a day earlier, that installation of Ford increases the likelihood Nixon will be impeached if he fails to restore his credibility.

Trial Of Denver Meade Moves Into Fifth Day

By SUE BOYER

Herald Staff Writer

As the Meade murder trial moves into its fifth day, County Prosecutor Richard L. Gerhardt continues his case for the State of Ohio. Twelve witnesses were called to testify for the plaintiff during Thursday's session. Today's proceedings were held up until 10:30 a.m.

Judge William Ammer announced to the jury that 78 pieces of evidence have been marked and will be offered to them at the time of their deliberation. As the morning's court got underway, that number grew to 90 exhibits.

Dr. G. W. Smetter was the first witness after the noon recess. He is the physician who performed the autopsy on Charlotte Ann VanSickle and stated the cause of death was projectile objects traveling at a high rate of speed. Smetter said bullets would fit into this category.

The plaintiff's sixth witness was the 15-year-old daughter and sister of the two dead, Sheryl VanSickle. She testified that she was present when John Douglas VanSickle took the pictures of Veronica Meade Wilson's car and that Meade became very angry and "cussed them out." She said Meade then moved his car behind his daughter's vehicle thus blocking in the VanSickle car.

Further testimony revealed that Charlotte VanSickle came out and had words with Meade telling him to "show us some more of your religion." The child broke down while being questioned concerning the events around 5 p.m. of Jan. 20. She said she had also yelled at Meade when her mother became so hysterical after John Douglas had been shot but couldn't believe herself that the boy was dead until the father told her his head had been "blown off."

After a brief recess for the witness to gain her composure, neither the counsel for the prosecution nor the defense had any further questions.

The next witness called was James W. Wines who lives in the third trailer at the court off Brown St. in Commercial Point. It was at this home Mrs. VanSickle ran for help. Wines testified that she broke free from his hold and ran back toward the car after he had telephoned Marshall Fisk. Wines testified that he didn't know Meade very well even though they were neighbors.

Testimony followed by the Commercial Point Fire chief, members of the Scioto Township Emergency Squad and neighbors of both families. Fire chief Donald Thrasher said he observed Marshall Fisk and the emergency squad on the scene and an automobile in the driveway. He later saw Meade standing nearby. Thrasher had a 30-30 rifle and Meade approached him saying, "Don't shoot, I shot them."

Thrasher testified that he then turned Meade over to the squad and notified a deputy. He said he then saw the body lying on the ground face down. The fire chief stated that Meade was dressed only in a white tee shirt and light pants even though the weather was cold.

Charles Parmenter of the emergency squad said when he observed the body lying on the ground, Meade approached him saying "I did it and if you call my wife, she'll come out. She didn't have anything to do with it."

Further testimony substantiated the statement that Meade was dressed in a tee shirt and Karle Lewis wrapped him in a blanket. Lewis testified Meade said, "Tired of being harassed, spied on and having pictures taken." He said Meade did not try to escape.

Larry Hancock who lives on the corner of Front and Brown St. stated he heard gunfire and went to see what was wrong. He also said he saw flashes coming from the east trailer, identified as Meade's. He said he heard a woman screaming and saw her pass behind his garage.

As Hancock ran next door he saw John VanSickle crawling up to his trailer and heard him say something like, "You shot my wife and boy." Hancock testified that Meade replied, "Yes, and you ought to get on your knees and thank God I didn't get you too."

Elva and Henry Myers testified they saw a woman running, saw her fall, get up and fall again. Both said they heard part of Meade's statement to VanSickle.

Introduction and identification of evidence was made by William Mark, investigator with the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Investigation in London. The bureau was called into the investigation by Sheriff Dwight Radcliff. Mark stated he had collected eight guns at the Meade trailer and was presented with a .38 revolver by Sheriff's Deputy Bill Dountz.

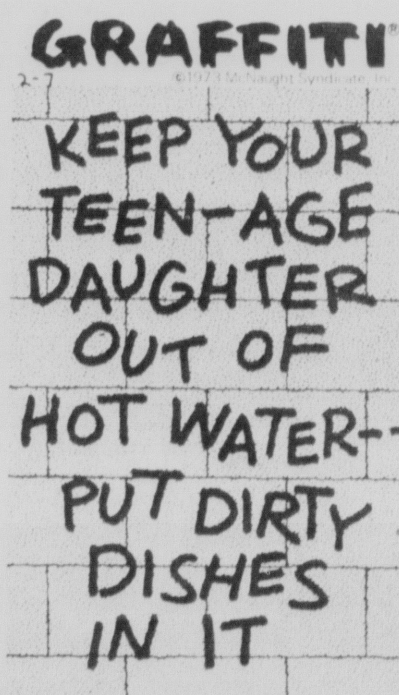

Weapons were identified as a 30-06 rifle found leaning against the doorway, a .22-250 rifle found on the bed, a .22 magnum against the doorway, a .22 auto-loading on the bed with one live round of ammunition in the chamber and three live rounds in the magazine, a .38 revolver on the kitchen table, a .22 Ruger rifle on the bed, a loaded .22 revolver on the bed and a shotgun in the bedroom closet.

Other evidence examined and identified by Mark included six envelopes of fired and unfired cartridges and several bullets found in the body of Charlotte VanSickle. Mark testified after the evidence was collected, it was placed in security and submitted to laboratory technicians. Weapons were processed for finger prints on Jan. 22.

Mark also stated Mrs. Meade was tested to see if she had fired a weapon.

Testimony continued today from Gorman Clark, also an investigator with the Bureau of Criminal Investigation. He stated he had searched the scene and collected articles which may have been related to the deaths. Among the items he identified were fired casings, bullet fragments from the vehicle where John Douglas VanSickle's body was found and bullet fragments from a vehicle parked in the driveway. The latter vehicle was identified as belonging to Meade.

The prosecution's case will continue today with examination of other members of the BCI and the head of the ballistics department. Several of the plaintiff's witnesses have not yet testified. Included in this group is Sheriff Dwight Radcliff and Deputy Bill Dountz.

Auto Firms Make Costly Shift To Small Cars

DETROIT (AP) — "We were caught with our small cars down," says one auto industry official. "There's no excuse for it. It just happened."

Detroit auto makers, having just enjoyed a year of record sales and soaring profits, are finding little demand in this time of an energy crisis for larger cars which use more gas. But they are finding strong demand for the smaller models and are planning accordingly.

Production of small cars such as Ford's Pinto and General Motor's Chevrolet Vega is being pushed to the hilt.

GM, in revising its 1974 industry sales estimate, believes the total car and truck market will be off as much as 1.7 million, down 12 per cent from 1973's record level of 14.7 million vehicles.

The Big Three are hustling to convert large-car assembly facilities into production of smaller-sized cars. GM chairman Richard Gerstenberg said GM's conversion plans are nothing more than a reading of the "needs and desires of the American people."

Some of the necessary changeover maneuvers began before the current energy scare, but industry sources say most of them did not.

Industry critics have been saying for years that irreparable damage was done in the 1960s when GM, Ford and Chrysler failed to respond to skyrocketing sales of imports. Imports captured about 15 per cent of the U.S. passenger car market, a share some observers believe will hold up no matter what Detroit does now.

GM, whose share of the U.S. new car market is more than 45 per cent this year, has announced plans for immediate assembly conversions at plants in Doraville, Ga. (standards to intermediates); Norwood, Ohio (increased production of "pony cars.");

Leeds, Mo. (intermediate to compact); and St. Theresa, Que. (increased Vega production).

GM has also scheduled increased production of its Chevrolet Nova, Oldsmobile Omega, Pontiac Ventura, and Buick Apollo, all compacts.

Ford has announced the immediate conversion of two assembly plants. One, in Chicago, will dump the standard Ford for the intermediate Torino. The other, in Wayne, Mich., will displace regular Ford production with the compact Maverick.

Chrysler said in the early fall it would convert its Newark, Del., assembly plant in January from standard models to the intermediate Dodge Dart and Plymouth Valiant.

American Motors, with nothing larger than an intermediate, is having its best year in a decade with an array of small cars. It is expected to introduce another small-sized model in 1975.

Detroit, having stalled for years in emphasizing small cars, is spending millions to make the conversions.

Meanwhile, the Big Three will lay off thousands of workers for short periods while completing assembly conversions.

No Gas Rationing Before March 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration says there will be no rationing of gasoline before March, and a House committee has taken a step to save that fuel by voting to ease auto emission standards.

The House Commerce Committee Thursday night adopted a compromise car exhaust provision that would slow clean air efforts for at least a year. The measure added to the emergency energy legislation requested by President Nixon would require the auto makers to meet the 1975 standards but would suspend any further exhaust cleanup until 1977.

The bill giving Nixon broad energy rationing and conservation powers is scheduled for a final committee vote today. Also today, the Senate is expected to vote on a $20-billion energy research and development bill.

William E. Simon, head of federal energy programs, told a Senate committee Thursday the administration will decide this month whether to impose gasoline rationing but that it would take until March before any such program could be put into effect. Simon repeated previous administration statements that rationing will be used only as a last resort.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., the Senate's leading energy spokesman, told Simon the nation is wasting a million barrels of oil each day that a rationing decision is postponed.

The nation must conserve about three million barrels of oil a day in order to counter the estimated effects of the Arab oil cutoff. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger called on the Arab nations Thursday to relax their embargo in response to U.S. efforts to work for an Israeli withdrawal from occupied territory.

Simon appeared before the Senate Government Operations Committee on a bill to create a Federal Energy Administration to oversee the government's fuel production, conservation, allocation and rationing programs for the next two years. Simon, who is Nixon's pick to head the new agency, told the committee he wants to see how the public responds to voluntary conservation measures before a rationing decision is made.

Under one type of rationing being considered, motorists would be entitled to a weekly allotment of gasoline with any additional purchases subject to a heavy surtax of 30 or 40 cents a gallon.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market marched through some normally depressing news today, continuing the upward rise begun Thursday, on technical buying and hopes for a Mideast peace.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 14.82 at 828.94. Advancing issues broadened their lead of Thursday, when the Dow jumped 25.81 points, to a 5-to-1 margin over declines on the New York Stock Exchange. Trading was heavy.

An increase in European buying, reports that the Arabs might relax their oil embargo as part of a peace conference to begin Dec. 18, and the lifting of price controls on some non-ferrous metals contributed to today's rally, one broker.

The market's strength, despite increases in the prime rate to 10 per cent by two major New York banks, was also impressive, Wachtel said.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index rose .87 to 90.91.

Major Shuffle In State

Department

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has nominated a career diplomat, Walter J. Stoessel Jr., to the long-vacant post of ambassador to the Soviet Union.

Stoessel was one of nine major diplomatic nominations announced by Nixon Thursday in the first major reshuffling of top State Department posts since Henry A. Kissinger became secretary of state earlier this year.

Nixon also accepted "with deep personal regret" the resignation of Joseph J. Sisco as assistant secretary of state for Near Eastern and South Asian affairs. Sisco, active in the search for a Middle East peace, is leaving next spring to accept the presidency of Hamilton College in upstate New York.

Nixon also announced he is nominating William J. Casey, now undersecretary of state for economic affairs, to be president of the Export-Import bank.

In addition to Stoessel, the nominees for diplomatic positions are:

—Arthur A. Hartman to be assistant secretary for European affairs, succeeding Stoessel.

—William B. Buffum to be assistant secretary for international organization affairs, replacing David H. Popper who is being nominated as ambassador to Chile.

—Donald B. Easum to be assistant secretary for African affairs, succeeding David D. Newsom, whose nomination to be ambassador to Indonesia also was announced.

—Thomas O. Enders to be assistant secretary for economic and business affairs, replacing Willis C. Armstrong who is resigning and returning to private life.

—Robert J. McCloskey to be ambassador-at-large and, as such, to take charge of State Department press operations, public affairs and congressional relations.

—Helmut Sonnenfeldt to be the department's counselor succeeding Richard F. Pedersen who now is ambassador to Hungary. Sonnenfeldt's earlier nomination to be undersecretary of the Treasury is being withdrawn.

THERE'S A RUMOR SPREADING ABOUT PIZZA HUT.

The rumor that Pizza Hut is a little nicer than other pizza houses. The pizzas, a little tastier. The atmosphere, a little more fun. Well, my friend, if you haven't tested that rumor, you've missed the fresh-crusted, thick-cheesed, extra-saucy pizza. And those fat Sandwich Supremes. And that fresh salad. And those most refreshing and relaxing of drinks. And that atmosphere more like a big cozy den than a restaurant. But don't listen to us. Find out if the Pizza Hut rumor be truth or the blackest of lies only by testing it yourself.

Deputies Arrest Five In County Thefts

Six secret indictments were filed by grand jury against Robert J. Boston, 25, Columbus, on information provided by Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff and Detective Don Thompson. Boston, arrested 8 a.m. Friday by Detective Thompson, was charged with forgery of an importer's certificate, holding and using a forged imported vehicle, procuring a title knowing a vehicle is stolen, auto theft conspiracy with counts for operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent and disposing of a motor-vehicle by an auto theft offense.

Sheriff's Deputy Lawrence Holt arrested 20-year-old, Thomas Charles Cochran, Route 1, Orient, for breaking and entering and grand larceny Nov. 28 at John's Place, Williamsport.

Cochran allegedly entered the carry-out of the tavern while the operator was away and opened the cash register taking money and four bottles of liquor, worth $185.

Charles Rodney Cyrus, 29, Columbus, was arrested Wednesday by Deputy Holt for the Nov. 20-Nov. 24 charge of unlawful entry and grand larceny at the George Banks residence Route 1, Lockbourne.

Cyrus entered a garage on the Banks property taking tools, fishing equipment, tires and wheels.

Deputy Holt arrested Albert Eugene Breech, 20, Columbus, Wednesday for unlawful entry and grand larceny at the Patrick Samuel Wears residence, Route 1, Lockbourne.

Missing from the trailer was a guitar, stereo, and tape player in the Nov. 15-Nov. 17 theft.

A third arrest was made in the Nov. 16 to Nov. 18 unlawful entry and grand larceny at the residence of Albert E. Breech, Route 1, Lockbourne.

Arrested Wednesday by Sheriff's Deputy Lawrence Holt was Donald Dale Post, 19, Columbus.

Post, along with Tamara Lynn Post and Patrick Samuel Wears, were arrested in the theft.

The incident is still under investigation.

Keaton's Gun Released To Authorities

The gun belonging to Cleo Vernon Keaton was released by the Pickaway County Clerk of Court's office Wednesday to the authorities from Montgomery County. The H and R .22 caliber revolver was released to the assistant prosecutor of Montgomery County to be used in four cases pending there against Keaton to start trial next week.

Keaton's weapon was used as an exhibit in the 1965 murder trial here and will be returned to Pickaway County after the conclusion of the four cases in Dayton.

Gasless Sundays May Aid Churches

NEW YORK (AP) — Gasless Sundays aren't expected to hurt those spiritual refueling stations, the churches. In fact, some religious leaders say it could boost attendance by keeping people on the hometown scene.

"It might be a blessing in disguise," said the Rev. Dr. W. Sterling Carey, president of the National Council of Churches, noting that the ban on Sunday gasoline sales could replace weekend trips with church-going.

"People may find again their local church, get to know their neighbors and have time to search again for the values which once made this nation one of hope and trust," he added.

However, the Rev. Dean M. Kelley, an inter-church specialist on relations with government, suggested people may simply apply an old biblical tip of Moses and obtain their travel fuel a day early.

"Presumably like the ancient children of Israel, they'll stock up on manna the day before," he says, recalling how "manna" fell in the wilderness each day except the sabbath, for which it was gathered the previous day.

In any case, the Sunday closing of filling stations isn't regarded as a hindrance to getting to worship services, even though participants largely get there by car these days.

"It obviously won't inhibit going to church, and it may help because people won't be so likely to be driving out of town," said Frank White, director of the interdenominational corporation information center.

The nation's major churches for several years have been urging a simpler life style to moderate consumption of dwindling natural resources. Many local churches across the country also are taking steps to cut their own uses of energy.

Maryland's Episcopal bishop David Leighton, of Baltimore, asked congregations to keep thermostats down to a minimum and recommended holding meetings in smaller quarters requiring less heat. He also suggested inter-faith sharing of facilities.

A check of Houston, Tex., churches by Louis Moore, religion editor of the Houston Chronicle, showed that many churches have decided to lower thermostats to 68 degrees and keep unnecessary lights off.

The Rev. Robert Ball, of Houston's Memorial Drive Presbyterian Church, says it already had a policy of encouraging members to use car pools because of limited parking facilities.

The Rev. Dr. Charles Allen, of Houston's downtown First Methodist Church, said there is a possibility of scheduling Friday noon services for members who work downtown but live in the suburbs.

Many Catholic churches hold services on Saturday for people that can't make it on Sunday.

Msgr. John Lenihan, of Christ the King Roman Catholic Church in Jacksonville, Fla., said that parish may schedule all Masses on Saturday in case the energy pinch banned Sunday driving.

However, President Nixon, in his initial energy-conservation message, said there will be no ban on Sunday driving, such as has been imposed in some European countries.

Five Points News

By MRS. FRANCIS FURNISS

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Michel were hosts to the members of the Five Points United Methodist Social Hour Club when they met Thursday evening in the church basement for their November meeting. A lovely covered dish supper preceded the meeting.

The president, Mrs. Helen Redman opened the meeting with scripture reading from Luke 23:35-43 verses followed by prayer by Mr. Redman and the Lord's prayer. Roll call was answered by 19 members and Mrs. Bess Stewart of Columbus was a guest. Mrs. Francis Furniss, secretary read the report of the last meeting and a "Thank You" note from Mrs. Ned Long for the flowers and cards she received while she was in the hospital. Mrs. Clarence Finch gave the financial report and Mr. and Mrs. Michel, Francis Furniss, Clarence Finch and Mrs. Herman Porter paid their birthday dues. A card of cheer was signed to be sent to one of our members who is ill.

Plans were made to bake cookies to be taken to the Rest Homes on Dec. 18th. Those who wish to help with this project may bring their cookies to church on Dec. 6th. Laura Long read "Thanksgiving Day and How did it start?" Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Finch read "Coming Comet is exciting Fundamentalists Believe". The meeting closed with the benediction. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Redman will be hosts for the December meeting on Dec. 27th.

Mrs. Bess Stewart of Columbus returned home Friday evening after spending Thanksgiving and the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss and family.

Mrs. Frances McPherson, Mr. Billy McPherson and Mrs. Tim Kelly and daughter Crystal were Saturday afternoon guests of Mrs. Ellen Dennis.

Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Redman are the proud parents of a new daughter born Saturday Dec. 1. She has been named Tracey Renee. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Redman are the paternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Redman are the great grandparents.

LOSE 20 POUNDS IN TWO WEEKS!

Famous U.S. Women Ski Team Diet

During the non-snow off season the U.S. Women's Alpine Ski Team members go on the "Ski Team" diet to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. That's right — 20 pounds in 14 days! The basis of the diet is chemical food action and was devised by a famous Colorado physician especially for the U.S. Ski Team. Normal energy is maintained (very important!) while reducing. You keep "tull" — no starvation — because the diet is designed that way. It's a diet that is easy to follow whether you work, travel or stay at home. (Not the grapefruit diet!)

This is, honestly, a fantastically successful diet. If it weren't, the U.S. Women's Ski Team wouldn't be permitted to use it! Right? So, give yourself the same break the U.S. Ski Team gets. Lose weight the scientific, proven way. Even if you've tried all the other diets, you owe it to yourself to try the U.S. Women's Ski Team Diet. That is, if you really do want to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. Order today. Tear this out as a reminder.

Send only $3.00 ($3.25 for Rush Service) - cash is O.K. to: NATIONAL HEALTH INSTITUTE, P.O. Box 39, Dept. 16, Durham, Calif. 95938. Don't order unless you want to lose 20 pounds in two weeks! Because that's what the Ski Team Diet will do.

The Rev. Dr. Charles Allen, of Houston's downtown First Methodist Church, said there is a possibility of scheduling Friday noon services for members who work downtown but live in the suburbs.

Many Catholic churches hold services on Saturday for people that can't make it on Sunday.

Msgr. John Lenihan, of Christ the King Roman Catholic Church in Jacksonville, Fla., said that parish may schedule all Masses on Saturday in case the energy pinch banned Sunday driving.

However, President Nixon, in his initial energy-conservation message, said there will be no ban on Sunday driving, such as has been imposed in some European countries.

Five Points News

By MRS. FRANCIS FURNISS

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Michel were hosts to the members of the Five Points United Methodist Social Hour Club when they met Thursday evening in the church basement for their November meeting. A lovely covered dish supper preceded the meeting.

The president, Mrs. Helen Redman opened the meeting with scripture reading from Luke 23:35-43 verses followed by prayer by Mr. Redman and the Lord's prayer. Roll call was answered by 19 members and Mrs. Bess Stewart of Columbus was a guest. Mrs. Francis Furniss, secretary read the report of the last meeting and a "Thank You" note from Mrs. Ned Long for the flowers and cards she received while she was in the hospital. Mrs. Clarence Finch gave the financial report and Mr. and Mrs. Michel, Francis Furniss, Clarence Finch and Mrs. Herman Porter paid their birthday dues. A card of cheer was signed to be sent to one of our members who is ill.

Plans were made to bake cookies to be taken to the Rest Homes on Dec. 18th. Those who wish to help with this project may bring their cookies to church on Dec. 6th. Laura Long read "Thanksgiving Day and How did it start?" Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Finch read "Coming Comet is exciting Fundamentalists Believe". The meeting closed with the benediction. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Redman will be hosts for the December meeting on Dec. 27th.

Mrs. Bess Stewart of Columbus returned home Friday evening after spending Thanksgiving and the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss and family.

Mrs. Frances McPherson, Mr. Billy McPherson and Mrs. Tim Kelly and daughter Crystal were Saturday afternoon guests of Mrs. Ellen Dennis.

Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Redman are the proud parents of a new daughter born Saturday Dec. 1. She has been named Tracey Renee. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Redman are the paternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Redman are the great grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Michel, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dawson, Mrs. Ellen Dennis, Mrs. Francis Furniss, Carroll Reid, Harold Furniss, Laura Long, and Patricia Schleich, members of Star Grange attended the County Grange Banquet at the 4-H and Grange building Saturday evening. A bountiful dinner was enjoyed and a nice program was presented, with all granges in the county taking part.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss, Miss Laura Long and Mrs. Bess Stewart of Columbus were Tuesday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Long of near East Ringgold. Later in the afternoon they called on Mrs. Luther Ruff and sons Todd and Mark in Circleville.

There were 68 present at the worship service at the Five Points United Methodist Church Sunday morning. Holy Communion was observed. On Sunday evening the youth group presented their Christmas program and Family Night was observed.

The Five Points United Methodist Women met Wednesday evening Dec. 5 at 7:30 p.m. in the church basement.

Mr. and Mrs. David Anderson and Walter Haines of Columbus were Sunday guests of Mrs. Shirley Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene R. Donohoe of near Washington C.H. and Mrs. Bess Stewart of Columbus were Tuesday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Neff spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hill and family in Lawrence, Kansas. They returned home Friday.

Mrs. Lloyd Grabill was pleasantly surprised for her birthday last Wednesday Nov. 26th. Her guests were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dille and daughters Brenda and Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Forst of Grove City, Mrs. Lucy Fausnaugh of Circleville and Mr. Lloyd Grabill.

Mrs. Mary Styers of Mt. Sterling, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sons of Orient, and Mrs. Medrith Norris of Columbus were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Grabill.

Mrs. Pearl Davis of Circleville spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. John H. Haller and Mr. and Mrs. James Arledge and family of Circleville were Sunday dinner guests of the Haller's.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hix and son Craig, and Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Hix of Columbus, Mr. Roland Carpenter and daughters Shelly and Tracy and Miss Eunice Dennis were Thanksgiving Day dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Carpenter.

Mr. Clyde Gantz is home from the hospital and is slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Finch, Kim and Amy, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Armentrout and daughter Tammy Jo and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Finch were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Finch, Roger and Bradley.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Armentrout of Tarlton were Sunday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Armentrout.

Mrs. Nellie Alkire spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Larry Maurer and family in Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Furniss visited with Mrs. Bessie Hinton in Darbyville Saturday.

The Monrovia Garden Club had their annual Christmas Party Monday evening at the L-K Restaurant in Circleville.

LOSE 20 POUNDS IN TWO WEEKS!

Famous U.S. Women Ski Team Diet

During the non snow off season the U.S. Women's Alpine Ski Team members go on the "Ski Team" diet to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. That's right — 20 pounds in 14 days! The basis of the diet is chemical food action and was devised by a famous Colorado physician especially for the U.S. Ski Team. Normal energy is maintained (very important!) while reducing. You keep "full" — no starvation — because the diet is designed that way. It's a diet that is easy to follow whether you work, travel or stay at home. (Not the grapefruit diet!)

This is, honestly, a fantastically successful diet. If it weren't, the U.S. Women's Ski Team wouldn't be permitted to use it! Right? So give yourself the same break the U.S. Ski Team gets. Lose weight the scientific, proven way. Even if you've tried all the other diets, you owe it to yourself to try the U.S. Women's Ski Team Diet. That is, if you really do want to lose 20 pounds in two weeks. Order today. Tear this out as a reminder.

Send only $3.00 ($3.25 for Rush Service) - cash is O.K. - to: NATIONAL HEALTH INSTITUTE, P.O. Box 39, Dept. 16, Durham, Calif. 95938. Don't order unless you want to lose 20 pounds in two weeks! Because that's what the Ski Team Diet will do. c 1972

Inflation Is Sneaky

It was only months ago that there was great concern about the high price of food. Housewives were on the prod. They wanted lower prices and they wanted them pronto.

Some food prices have come down, others are higher than ever. But hardly a whimper is heard from outraged buyers. They pay their money and take their choice.

Isn't that how it is with many problems? The American public doesn't have a long memory. If a problem can be solved immediately, good. If not, the public soon forgets it exists.

Had food prices suddenly jumped to their present levels three years ago, the sounds of outrage from consumers would have reverberated from coast to coast. There would have been buyers' strikes. Retail outlets would have been picketed.

But that is the way with inflation. It sneaks up on the unsuspecting and doesn't give them a chance to mount a first class protest.

A Man In Control

By JIM BISHOP

Slowly, subtly, the press moves onward to question the President's emotional stability. It is neither concerted, conscious or collusive. Almost timidly, The New York Times and the newsmagazine, Time, are asking if Mr. Nixon is fully responsible (i.e., in control of his public actions).

All the evidence, if one goes back to his boyhood in Yorba Linda, California, and follows his tempestuous climb to the White House, is the opposite. His emotional control, with few lapses, is dangerously complete. The observer is left with the impression that every thought, every deed, is so minutely planned that even his lightning flashy smiles are triggered to prove "you have not hurt me."

It is easy to imagine that he has had plenty of allies, but never a friend. He may go down in history as the man no one knew. From the days he pumped gas in Whittier for his father, and drew the curtains before washing dishes for his mother, one has an impression of a hardworking, uncomplaining boy whose unrelenting need was for enemies.

To triumph, one must fight. To fight, one must project an image of honor and candor eternally battling the forces of evil. The man who purposely projects "honor and candor" has neither. To convince himself, he must say: "Let me make one thing perfectly clear," or "Permit me to be candid."

Mr. Nixon's stability came into public question on several occasions. One was in the publication of "The Washington Pay-Off," by Robert N. Winter-Berger. Lyle Stuart published the book and it stated that Nixon had been a patient of Dr. Arnold Hutschnecker, a psychotherapist from New York. The author quotes the doctor as saying that Mr. Nixon "is the sort of man who should rehearse even a casual conversation."

Again, suspicion points to the opposite. The President is never casual. He would not dream of asking which way to the Gent's room without assessing all the options.

Publicly, he lost his temper twice. Once in California, when he was defeated by Governor Pat Brown and, in a hotel corridor, he advised the press: "You won't have Dick Nixon to kick around any more." Once in Russia when Khrushchev and he got into a calculated shouting match.

Lack of control has never been the President's weakness. I doubt that he could abide a peaceful, prosperous world applauding him. When he opposed Helen Gahagan Douglas, he made Communism the enemy. Last year, in Moscow and Peking, Communism became the buddy.

The White House ushers know that the President seldom has a full night's sleep. He awakens in dark hours to jot new lines of attack against his enemies. Few Washington politicians were surprised to learn that H. R. Haldeman knew that Nixon was bugging conversations, but that it was kept secret from Ehrlichman.

A new book — the most asinine to this layman — is called "President Nixon's Psychiatric Profile," written by Dr. Eli S. Chesen, a young psychiatrist who is Chief of Mental Health at Nellis Air Force Base in Nevada. I figure Dr. Chesen wrote his book based on biographies and tracts written about Nixon, and watching the President on television.

He speaks of the Chief Executive's "anxiety" and "overkill" as though he knew the man. At best, it is a cheap shot. The President's overweening desire to play Douglas Fairbanks, the good guy, backing up a marble staircase armed with a sword, fighting off hordes of evil men, represents, to my way of thinking, the true danger in Nixon.

From March, 1973, when he said that no Executive Department employee "past or present" would be permitted to testify before the Watergate Committee, until now, when he has been cornered many times and has tried to make his retreats appear to be planned, his government has fallen

Navy Ends Race Relations Program; Feared Too Raw

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has suspended a pilot race relations program, in part because it was decided the emotions of the participants were rubbed too raw to continue.

Accounts vary, but the black civilian organizer of the program says a Navy admiral objected to demonstrations designed to deliberately arouse latent prejudices among both blacks and whites.

Charles H. King Jr., who heads Urban Crisis Inc. of Dayton, Ohio, said he kissed a white assistant during the training program at the naval base in Charleston, S.C.

The act drew a protest from an irate woman participant, King says, and the Navy suspended the program.

Navy officials say the kissing incident was only part of the objection to King's program, which could have developed into the principal source of race relations officers for the Navy.

A series of major racial incidents aboard Navy ships in recent years, including a fullscale brawl aboard the carrier Kitty Hawk, has prompted the Navy into an extensive attempt at race relations training in the fleet.

King, who has trained school teachers, policemen and business executives, said he holds a $27,000 contract to develop a pilot program for the Navy.

King said 24 civilians from a number of Navy bases went through what he described as a "creative racial confrontation." King acknowledges using techniques intended to anger and provoke participants so their deepest racial emotions are stirred.

The kissing incident led to a complaint from a female Navy employee to Rear Adm. Graham Tahler, commandant of the Sixth Naval District.

King said in a telephone interview into ruins. With sweat on his upper lip, Nixon says he will "tough it out."

He bears the mark of the man so much in emotional control that he has lost the joy of a kiss, the relief of a tear. Evans and Novak wrote: "Nixon the politician . . . concealed Nixon the man, and the man was, even to some of his close friends, an unbelievably shy, complex, remote and tense figure whose iron control seldom permitted anyone to glimpse the tumult inside."

A President who calls a missile alert represents either the ultimate in statesmanship or the most dangerous person ever to occupy the White House. I phoned a couple of friendly psychiatrists and asked if, as trained observers, they would question Nixon's sanity.

"No." The response was 100 per cent. Aren't we going much too far when we shoot from the hip at a man who, as I pointed out, nobody ever knew? I am no fan, but I do not want to see Nixon pushed to the brink . . .

that Tahler summoned Navy officers working with the program and ordered the training halted immediately even though King had another four weeks to go in his contract.

Tahler could not be reached for comment. Navy officials in Washington say King raised myths about the sexual prowess of blacks and used such strong language, that they're not sure the Navy is prepared for King's kind of confrontation, however true to life it may be.

King and the Navy agree his program will get a new examination to see if his methods can be applied. Meanwhile, the 24 persons already trained have returned to their old jobs with no promise that what they learned will be put to use toward easing race problems in the military.

TV Actress, Spouse Separate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Emmy Award-winning actress Mary Tyler Moore and Grant Tinker, her husband of 11 years, have separated, a spokesman for the couple reported.

The spokesman said Wednesday that Tinker had moved out of the couple's Malibu home, but no legal action has been filed yet.

Miss Moore and Tinker have no children.

Tinker is the producer of "Mary Tyler Moore Show," a top-rated weekly television series in which Miss Moore plays the role of a bachelor girl.

The largest crowd gathered for a funeral is the estimated four million who thronged Cairo for the funeral of President Gamal Abdel Nassar on Oct. 1, 1970.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Dec. 7, the 341st day of 1973. There are 24 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1941, Japanese planes attacked Pearl Harbor at the beginning of the Pacific war.

On this date:

In 1787, Delaware became the first state to ratify the U.S. Constitution.

In 1808, James Madison was elected president.

In 1921, the U.S. and Austria resumed diplomatic relations after World War I.

In 1944, the United States announced that all six of the Japanese aircraft carriers which struck Pearl Harbor three years earlier had been sunk.

In 1971, an unmanned Soviet space capsule was sending back radio and television signals from the planet Mars.

Ten years ago: Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower suggested ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge as a Republican presidential candidate. His action was seen as a blow to the hopes of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Richard Nixon.

Five years ago: After a delay, a South Vietnamese delegation left Saigon for peace talks with North Vietnamese and American negotiators in Paris.

One year ago: In Manila, a man was killed as he slashed the wife of Philippines President Ferdinand Marcos during a public ceremony.

Today's birthdays: Actor Eli Wallach is 58 years old. The U.S. representative to the Organization of American States, Sol M. Linowitz, is 60.

Thought for today: He laughs best who laughs last—English proverb.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

On November 4, the Pickaway County Farm Bureau Women's Committee held its 5th Annual Rabies Clinic. 1324 animals were inoculated at 6 sites in Pickaway County. Farm Bureau Women made arrangements and manned the sites with their families assisting.

We want to thank the Pickaway County Veterinary Medical Association for their assistance. These veterinarians donated their time and knowledge to inoculate the animals:

Dr. Charles Hardin, Dr. James Peters, Dr. Paul Teegardin, Dr. Paul Fenstermaker, Dr. Dale Miller, Dr. D. P. Quillen, Dr. S. C. Quillen.

The Pickaway County Health Department assisted in planning the clinic. The Pickaway County Radio Patrol provided the communications during the afternoon.

Our deep appreciation to all who helped make the afternoon a successful effort.

Indigent Must Be Given Aid

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Ruling that the "temple of justice" does not vary for rich and poor, a federal appeals court Thursday ordered the state of Michigan to appoint a lawyer to help an indigent convict ask the state court of appeals for a review of his conviction.

"Where liberty is at stake, we consider the substantial disadvantage experienced by the unassisted indigent to be an invidious discrimination and a denial of fundamental fairness, the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals wrote.

The court vacated a decision by U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan that had dismissed an appeal by Arthur Mitchell.

"Okay, Bill — your uniform's back from the cleaners."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

We have just learned that our 6-year-old boy has epilepsy. We have investigated the subject in books everywhere and through our doctors.

Any additional hope that you can shed will be deeply appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. N.F., Calif.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. F.:
The despair that parents feel when they learn that their child has epilepsy at first seems insurmountable.

With better understanding of the condition they soon learn of the tremendous strides that have been made in the proper diagnosis and subsequent treatment of this disorder.

At the beginning of the century, the control of epileptiform seizures occurred in less than 10 per cent. Today, almost 75 per cent of patients with epilepsy under constant supervision can be kept free of convulsive seizures.

Along with the amazing strides in drug therapy has come great psychological understanding of the patients and their families.

Social maturity has advanced to the point where epileptics are no longer rejected, and are now completely integrated into society as productive people, often with superior intelligence.

Many people with epilepsy lead serviceable lives, and eventually marry and have children who may be free of the disease.

The development of the electroencephalogram (EEG) by which the electrical activity in the brain is recorded has done much to classify and clearly distinguish one type of epilepsy from another.

Special drugs, developed in the past 25 years, have profoundly influenced the control of convulsions. Special high fat ketogenic diets have also contributed to the control of epilepsy.

The disorder of epilepsy is no longer a social stigma. The complexities of this illness are immense. No matter how ardously you pursue scientific information about the subject you will not exhaust its vast literature.

May I suggest, therefore, that once the diagnosis is made and thoroughly established that you, as parents, devote yourselves to giving your child the greatest emotional support.

You must also learn to avoid being so overpermissive that you will ultimately make things more difficult for the child.

Do men ever develop cancer of the breast?

Mr. T.J., N.M.

Dear Mr. J.:
It does occur, but it is relatively rare when compared to its occurrence in the female.

There are a number of other benign, or non-malignant, conditions that occur in men.

During adolescence, swelling of the nipple may occur. This requires no special treatment and usually disappears spontaneously.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Shortages of energy and other basic products mean good news for some of those physicists and engineers who found their talents in decreasing demand during the past few years.

A personnel search firm reports a big increase since last spring in demand for workers with talents in the nuclear area, and more recently for those capable of dealing with the use of coal in power generation.

Bill Breitmayer, president of Executive Register, which charges industry $500 for a computerized search of its 15,000 up-to-date resumes of executive and professional workers, claims that salaries also are soaring.

A nuclear engineer or physicist with capabilities in basic design and applications is now commanding a salary of above $30,000, Breitmayer states, compared with $22,000 to $25,000 at the beginning of last year.

For highly talented and accomplished individuals with doctorates and the ability to manage industrial physics or engineering departments the salaries might be as high as $80,000 to $100,000, Breitmayer's records show.

For some physicists and engineers the renewed demand for their services is in sharp contrast to the gloom that pervaded their fields just three years ago, when many of them were forced to seek employment outside their specialties.

As a result, the search for qualified personnel today is somewhat more difficult than in previous years, when search firms and talent-hungry companies knew where to look.

Some talent-rich companies became known in the 1960s as universities, for example, because they trained and "graduated" so many specialists. Search firms regularly raided such staffs.

Breitmayer now finds that searchers must be more creative. In some instances they have to induce specialists to return to industrial jobs from teaching or other pursuits.

Among job titles now in demand, Breitmayer says, are project managers, contract administrators, design engineers, safety specialists, pressure vessel designers and computer systems analysts.

"Anyone who has design or project experience in power generation is valuable," he says, "whether it's for nuclear, fossil fuel or electrical."

Another area of demand, this one resulting from the vast number of product shortages, is for purchasing agents with international experience in buying foodstuffs, basic metals, cotton and other raw materials of manufacture.

"The cost of a good purchasing man is going up and up and up," Breitmayer says, adding that a knowledge of currencies, rates of exchange and dealings with foreign experts is prized.

Pulp and paper companies in particular have a great need for production engineers, he finds, especially for those who can handle waste, temperature and other ecological matters.

Nevertheless, Breitmayer finds it wise to add a word of caution. "The total market for executives is still high," he notes, "but there's no telling right now what it will be around the first of the year."

Sergeant Pleads Guilty

McGUIRE AFB, N.J. (AP)—An Air Force sergeant pleaded guilty Thursday to three charges related to passing secret documents to a Soviet diplomat last July 21.

James D. Wood waived a general court-martial and entered the plea before a military judge.

Wood, a 35-year-old native of Tacoma, Wash., was arrested on a Queens, N.Y., street corner when he met with Viktor Chernyshev, first secretary of the Soviet embassy in Washington. The 18-year Air Force veteran was en route to reassignment in Turkey at the time.

Chernyshev pleaded diplomatic immunity and subsequently left the country.

Wood's court-martial had been scheduled to begin Wednesday, but was postponed after discussions between Wood and the military trial counsel assigned to defend him, apparently over what plea would be entered.

Evans and Novak wrote: "Nixon the politician... concealed Nixon the man, and the man was, even to some of his close friends, an unbelievably shy, complex, remote and tense figure whose iron control seldom permitted anyone to glimpse the tumult inside."

A President who calls a missile alert represents either the ultimate in statesmanship or the most dangerous person ever to occupy the White House. I phoned a couple of friendly psychiatrists and asked if, as trained observers, they would question Nixon's sanity.

"No." The response was 100 per cent. Aren't we going much too far when we shoot from the hip at a man who, as I pointed out, nobody ever knew? I am no fan, but I do not want to see Nixon pushed to the brink...

Navy Ends Race Relations Program; Feared Too Raw

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has suspended a pilot race relations program, in part because it was decided the emotions of the participants were rubbed too raw to continue.

Accounts vary, but the black civilian organizer of the program says a Navy admiral objected to demonstrations designed to deliberately arouse latent prejudices among both blacks and whites.

Charles H. King Jr., who heads Urban Crisis Inc. of Dayton, Ohio, said he kissed a white assistant during the training program at the naval base in Charleston, S.C.

The act drew a protest from an irate woman participant, King says, and the Navy suspended the program.

Navy officials say the kissing incident was only part of the objection to King's program, which could have developed into the principal source of race relations officers for the Navy.

A series of major racial incidents aboard Navy ships in recent years, including a fullscale brawl aboard the carrier Kitty Hawk, has prompted the Navy into an extensive attempt at race relations training in the fleet.

King, who has trained school teachers, policemen and business executives, said he holds a $27,000 contract to develop a pilot program for the Navy.

King said 24 civilians from a number of Navy bases went through what he described as a "creative racial confrontation." King acknowledges using techniques intended to anger and provoke participants so their deepest racial emotions are stirred.

The kissing incident led to a complaint from a female Navy employee to Rear Adm. Graham Tahler, commandant of the Sixth Naval District.

King said in a telephone interview that Tahler summoned Navy officers working with the program and ordered the training halted immediately even though King had another four weeks to go in his contract.

Tahler could not be reached for comment. Navy officials in Washington say King raised myths about the sexual prowess of blacks and used such strong language, that they're not sure the Navy is prepared for King's kind of confrontation, however true to life it may be.

King and the Navy agree his program will get a new examination to see if his methods can be applied. Meanwhile, the 24 persons already trained have returned to their old jobs with no promise that what they learned will be put to use toward easing race problems in the military.

TV Actress, Spouse Separate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Emmy Award-winning actress Mary Tyler Moore and Grant Tinker, her husband of 11 years, have separated, a spokesman for the couple reported.

The spokesman said Wednesday that Tinker had moved out of the couple's Malibu home, but no legal action has been filed yet.

Miss Moore and Tinker have no children.

Tinker is the producer of "Mary Tyler Moore Show," a top-rated weekly television series in which Miss Moore plays the role of a bachelor girl.

The largest crowd gathered for a funeral is the estimated four million who thronged Cairo for the funeral of President Gamal Abdel Nasser on Oct. 1, 1970.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Dec. 7, the 341st day of 1973. There are 24 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1941, Japanese planes attacked Pearl Harbor at the beginning of the Pacific war.

On this date:

In 1787, Delaware became the first state to ratify the U.S. Constitution.

In 1808, James Madison was elected president.

In 1921, the U.S. and Austria resumed diplomatic relations after World War I.

In 1944, the United States announced that all six of the Japanese aircraft carriers which struck Pearl Harbor three years earlier had been sunk.

In 1971, an unmanned Soviet space capsule was sending back radio and television signals from the planet Mars.

Ten years ago: Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower suggested ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge as a Republican presidential candidate. His action was seen as a blow to the hopes of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Richard Nixon.

Five years ago: After a delay, a South Vietnamese delegation left Saigon for peace talks with North Vietnamese and American negotiators in Paris.

One year ago: In Manila, a man was killed as he slashed the wife of Philippines President Ferdinand Marcos during a public ceremony.

Today's birthdays: Actor Eli Wallach is 58 years old. The U.S. representative to the Organization of American States, Sol M. Linowitz, is 60.

Thought for today: He laughs best who laughs last—English proverb.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

On November 4, the Pickaway County Farm Bureau Women's Committee held its 5th Annual Rabies Clinic. 1324 animals were inoculated at 6 sites in Pickaway County. Farm Bureau Women made arrangements and manned the sites with their families assisting.

We want to thank the Pickaway County Veterinary Medical Association for their assistance. These veterinarians donated their time and knowledge to inoculate the animals: Dr. Charles Hardin, Dr. James Peters, Dr. Paul Teegardin, Dr. Paul Fenstermaker, Dr. Dale Millar, Dr. D. P. Quillen, Dr. S. C. Quillen.

The Pickaway County Health Department assisted in planning the clinic. The Pickaway County Radio Patrol provided the communications during the afternoon.

Our deep appreciation to all who helped make the afternoon a successful effort.

Indigent Must Be Given Aid

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Ruling that the "temple of justice" does not vary for rich and poor, a federal appeals court Thursday ordered the state of Michigan to appoint a lawyer to help an indigent convict ask the state court of appeals for a review of his conviction.

"Where liberty is at stake, we consider the substantial disadvantage experienced by the unassisted indigent to be an invidious discrimination and a denial of fundamental fairness, the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals wrote.

The court vacated a decision by U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan that had dismissed an appeal by Arthur Mitchell.

"Okay, Bill — your uniform's back from the cleaners."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

We have just learned that our 6-year-old boy has epilepsy. We have investigated the subject in books everywhere and through our doctors.

Any additional hope that you can shed will be deeply appreciated.

Mr. and Mrs. N.F., Calif.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. F.:

The despair that parents feel when they learn that their child has epilepsy at first seems insurmountable.

With better understanding of the condition they soon learn of the tremendous strides that have been made in the proper diagnosis and subsequent treatment of this disorder.

At the beginning of the century, the control of epileptiform seizures occurred in less than 10 per cent. Today, almost 75 per cent of patients with epilepsy under constant supervision can be kept free of convulsive seizures.

Along with the amazing strides in drug therapy has come great psychological understanding of the patients and their families.

Social maturity has advanced to the point where epileptics are no longer rejected, and are now completely integrated into society as productive people, often with superior intelligence.

Many people with epilepsy lead serviceable lives, and eventually marry and have children who may be free of the disease.

The development of the electroencephalogram (EEG) by which the electrical activity in the brain is recorded has done much to classify and clearly distinguish one type of epilepsy from another.

Special drugs, developed in the past 25 years, have profoundly influenced the control of convulsions. Special high fat ketogenic diets have also contributed to the control of epilepsy.

The disorder of epilepsy is no longer a social stigma. The complexities of this illness are immense. No matter how ardently you pursue scientific information about the subject you will not exhaust its vast literature.

May I suggest, therefore, that once the diagnosis is made and thoroughly established that you, as parents, devote yourselves to giving your child the greatest emotional support.

You must also learn to avoid being so overpermissive that you will ultimately make things more difficult for the child.

Do men ever develop cancer of the breast?

Mr. T.J., N.M.

Dear Mr. J.:

It does occur, but it is relatively rare when compared to its occurrence in the female.

There are a number of other benign, or non-malignant, conditions that occur in men.

During adolescence, swelling of the nipple may occur. This requires no special treatment and usually disappears spontaneously.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Shortages of energy and other basic products mean good news for some of those physicists and engineers who found their talents in decreasing demand during the past few years.

A personnel search firm reports a big increase since last spring in demand for workers with talents in the nuclear area, and more recently for those capable of dealing with the use of coal in power generation.

Bill Breitmayer, president of Executive Register, which charges industry $500 for a computerized search of its 15,000 up-to-date resumes of executive and professional workers, claims that salaries also are soaring.

A nuclear engineer or physicist with capabilities in basic design and applications is now commanding a salary of above $30,000, Breitmayer states, compared with $22,000 to $25,000 at the beginning of last year.

For highly talented and accomplished individuals with doctorates and the ability to manage industrial physics or engineering departments the salaries might be as high as $80,000 to $100,000, Breitmayer's records show.

For some physicists and engineers the renewed demand for their services is in sharp contrast to the gloom that pervaded their fields just three years ago, when many of them were forced to seek employment outside their specialties.

As a result, the search for qualified personnel today is somewhat more difficult than in previous years, when search firms and talent-hungry companies knew where to look.

Some talent-rich companies became known in the 1960s as universities, for example, because they trained and "graduated" so many specialists. Search firms regularly raided such staffs.

Breitmayer now finds that searchers must be more creative. In some instances they have to induce specialists to return to industrial jobs from teaching or other pursuits.

Among job titles now in demand, Breitmayer says, are project managers, contract administrators, design engineers, safety specialists, pressure vessel designers and computer systems analysts.

"Anyone who has design or project experience in power generation is valuable," he says, "whether it's for nuclear, fossil fuel or electrical."

Another area of demand, this one resulting from the vast number of product shortages, is for purchasing agents with international experience in buying foodstuffs, basic metals, cotton and other raw materials of manufacture.

"The cost of a good purchasing man is going up and up and up," Breitmayer says, adding that a knowledge of currencies, rates of exchange and dealings with foreign experts is prized.

Pulp and paper companies in particular have a great need for production engineers, he finds, especially for those who can handle waste, temperature and other ecological matters.

Nevertheless, Breitmayer finds it wise to add a word of caution. "The total market for executives is still high," he notes, "but there's no telling right now what it will be around the first of the year."

Sergeant Pleads Guilty

McGUIRE AFB, N.J. (AP) — An Air Force sergeant pleaded guilty Thursday to three charges related to passing secret documents to a Soviet diplomat last July 21.

James D. Wood waived a general court-martial and entered the plea before a military judge.

Wood, a 35-year-old native of Tacoma, Wash., was arrested on a Queens, N.Y., street corner when he met with Viktor Chernyshev, first secretary of the Soviet embassy in Washington. The 18-year Air Force veteran was en route to reassignment in Turkey at the time.

Chernyshev pleaded diplomatic immunity and subsequently left the country.

Wood's court-martial had been scheduled to begin Wednesday, but was postponed after discussions between Wood and the military trial counsel assigned to defend him, apparently over what plea would be entered.

Eastland Pay Cut With Ford Rites

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. James O. Eastland has taken a pay cut.

With the swearing in of Rep. Gerald R. Ford as vice president, Eastland's salary dropped Thursday from $62,500 a year to $47,500.

Eastland, as president pro tempore of the Senate, assumed the duties and prerogatives — and the salary — of the vice president after the resignation of Spiro T. Agnew on Oct. 10.

Although Eastland no longer will be collecting the $62,500 paid the vice president, the Mississippi Democrat still will be the third highest paid senator. As president pro tempore, he gets $47,500 instead of the regular Senate salary of $42,500 a year.

Austria has the highest rate of accidental death of any country in the world. Chile is second.

Argentine Leftists Grab American

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The kidnapping of another American executive has strengthened the belief that left wing extremists are trying to drive foreigners out of Argentina.

"The government doesn't seem to be able to stop it," said one American executive who has been threatened. "You never know when or where the guerrillas are going to strike. It looks like a coordinated plan to get the so-called imperialists out of the country one by one."

Eight armed guerrillas invaded a dining room at the Esso Campana oil refinery 160 miles north of Buenos Aires Thursday, and forced about 100 people lunching there to lie face down on the floor. The guerrillas drove off with the refinery's 36-year-old manager, Victor Samuelson, a native of Cleveland, Ohio.

The raiders sprayed the walls with symbols of the ERP, the People's Revolutionary Army, and the slogan, "The fight against imperialism will not stop."

A spokesman in New York for Exxon, Esso's parent company, said Thursday night he knew of no ransom demand yet from the kidnapers.

County To Receive Subsidy Funds

Pickaway County will receive $13,803.36 from a total of $10,902,926.06 distributed in November to Ohio's counties as a general relief and administration subsidy, according to State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson.

The program, funded solely by the state, helps to defray administrative and general relief costs of individual county welfare operations. It supplements federal-state financed assistance programs, such as Aid for Dependent Children, Aged, Disabled and Blind.

Robert Kopf Elected President Of Clerks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Clerk of Courts Association elected Robert Kopf of Lucas County as its president Thursday.

Named vice presidents were William Sterritt of Morrow County, Clyde C. Myers of Wayne County, and Mildred E. Thompson of Scioto County.

2 Men Plead Guilty

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Two men, who pleaded guilty to printing $240,000 in counterfeit $20 bills were placed on probation Thursday by U.S. District Court Judge Timothy Hogan.

Perry Baker, 39, of suburban Reading, and Donald Fales, 33, of Hamilton, were ordered to spend one weekend in jail, however.

They were arrested in a federal raid May 15.

Samuelson, who came to Argentina in 1970, is married and has three children. He was the second American victim of terrorists in less than a month. Ford executive John Albert Swint, 56, was ambushed and murdered in Cordoba on Thanksgiving Day. A left wing Peronist organization later said it was responsible and claimed it was trying to kidnap him.

The kidnapping of Samuelson so soon after the killing of Swint was a severe blow to the American community, which is dwindling as its members leave for safer posts in the United States or elsewhere in South America.

The U. S. Embassy says there were about 1,000 American families in Argentina at the middle of the year, before terrorism began to increase about five months ago. The government and the foreign companies refuse to give information on the departures. But there is a steady exodus. Ford is known to have moved 22 American employees and their families out after Swint's murder.

Ford announced Thursday that it has accepted an offer from President Juan D. Peron to provide additional guards for its executives and buildings. But Swint's killing occurred on a Cordoba street and despite the presence of three bodyguards.

Loyal Daughters Class Holds Holiday Dinner Meeting

Forty-eight members and guests of Loyal Daughters Sunday School Class of Good Shepherd United Methodist Church attended a dinner meeting Tuesday in the Service Center. The banquet was prepared by women of the Young Married Class of the church and the husbands served.

The tables were decorated by Mrs. Marie Wilson, class president, and her committee. Maxine Davis and small daughter, Susan, made centerpieces which adorned the tables arranged in a square in the banquet hall. Favors were at each place and cards marked the seating arrangement for officers and entertainment committee members.

Turkey and the traditional trimmings were served as the main course. Steak was prepared for those who preferred it. Mrs. Wilson was assisted by Thelma Jones and Virginia Baker, committee members.

Christmas carols were led by Mrs. Juanita McGlone accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Carol Bowman. "Joy To The World," "Oh, Come All Ye Faithful" and "It Came Upon A Midnight Clear" were sung.

Mrs. Wilson conducted the devotion period reading Isaiah 2 verse 6 and selected as her subject "The Wonder Of Christmas." She read the poem "Oh, Happy Christmas" which was followed with prayer.

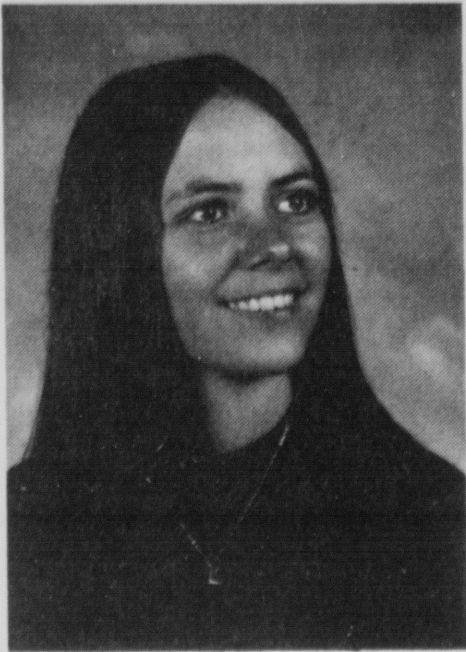

During a brief business session Miss Gladys Noggle distributed calendars for 1974. It was announced that due to a conflict in the schedule the next meeting time was changed to 8 p.m. on Jan. 4th.

Mrs. Catherine Martin, class teacher, presented booklets to each member, her gifts for Christmas. Members exchanged gifts and a large variety of desserts were served buffet style.

The Jubilation Quartet entertained with a variety of selections including Christmas carols.

The beauty of a decorated tree, nativity scenes, well prepared banquet and the Christmas songs made an evening to be remembered and prepare hearts and minds for the Birthday of the Christ Child.

On Books And Activities At The Library

There's no greater fun than creating something with your hands! That's why millions of people have joined the ranks of the "do-it-yourself" hobbyist. Before you decide to "do something with your hands," browse through the new "do-it-yourself" books that are now coming in at the library.

Did you ever wonder how those intricate model sailing ships got into the bottles? Well, even if you don't want to make a model for yourself, it does give you a wonderful feeling of curiosity satisfied to see photographs and line drawings of how it is done. "Modelling in Bottles" by Jack Needham gives step by step instructions, with suggestions for ships worth modelling. "Model Boat Building" by Herb Lozier will appeal to model builders who prefer to make a simpler boat.

"Making Costume Dolls" by Jean Greenhowe gives suggestions for using readily available materials to make dolls and doll costumes. Instructions are clear, and costumes are historically accurate. Knowing how to sew is not necessary, for the dolls are put together with glue or wire. Excellent for children or adults who want to make dolls for Christmas.

The purpose of "Making Simple Constructions" by Hansi Bohm is to stimulate the reader to become aware of the exciting possibilities of this new art form. The author defines "constructions" as "three-dimensional pieces which serve no utilitarian purpose, but which satisfy the human need to play, to invent, and to create esthetically pleasing objects."

Other new craft books include: "Flower Pressing" by Peter and Susanne Bauzen; "Introducing Design Techniques: 78 Variations on a Theme" by Robin Capon; "Pottery Set-By-Set" by Henry Trevor; "Making Pictures in Paper and Fabric" by Mary Honeywood; "Colorful Glasscrafting" by Jos. H. Eppens-van Veen; and "Taking Up Sculpture" by Sean Mullaney.

Painting and drawing for pleasure have become increasingly popular as hobbies. The library has added many new titles on watercolor, oil painting, artist's materials and methods, pencil sketching and related subjects. There are books for the beginner, as well as the more advanced artist. New this week are the following titles: "Drawing from Nature" and "Express Yourself in Drawing" by Gerhard Gollwitzer; "Constructive Anatomy"

by George B. Bridgman; "Charcoal Drawing" by Henry C. Pitz; "Aquarelle and Watercolor Complete" by J. Van Ingen; "Painting Abstract Landscapes" by Paul W. Wood; and "Perspective: A Guide for Artists, Architects and Designers" by Gwen White. Of special interest to teachers is "Experiencing Art in the Elementary School" by George F. Horn and Grace Sands Smith.

For those whose hobby is growing things, either animal or plant, there are new titles on "How to Raise and Train Pigeons" revised and enlarged, by William H. Allen Jr.; "Tropical Fish in Your Home" by Herbert R. Axelrod; "House Plant Identifier" and "Cage Bird Identifier" by Helmut Bechtel.

New for coin collectors is "Appraising and Selling Your Coins," 8th Edition, 1973 (Green Book) by Robert Friedburg. "Hokus Pokus" by Ib Permin tells "how-to" for amateur magicians. For sports enthusiasts, new are: "Karate: Basic Principles" by A. Pfluger; "Swimming the Shane Gould Way" by Shirley Gould; and the 1973 Edition of "The Book of Baseball Records" by Seymour Siwoff.

Newly received National Geographic Publications include:

"American Mountain People" by Bruce Dale; "Primitive Worlds: People Lost in Time;" and "The Renaissance: Makers of Modern Man."

Young people home for the holidays may wish to look over the new 1974 "Summer Employment Directory of the United States." The early bird . . .

Two new paperbacks, "The Gospel of Luke" by John Drury and "The Epistles to the Corinthians" by E. M. Robertson are commentaries on the New Testament in Modern English by J. B. Phillips.

For those who prefer the spoken word, new records include: "It Can't Happen Here" by Sinclair Lewis, read by Michael Lewis; H. P. Lovecraft's "The Rats in the Walls" read by David McCallum; Kurt Vonnegut, Jr. reads "Cat's Cradle;" David McCallum reads Ambrose Bierce's "An Occurrence at Owl Creek Bridge and 'The Damned Thing';" Anthony Burgess reads "A Clockwork Orange;" James Earl Jones reads Richard Wright's "Native Son." "Tennessee Williams" "A Streetcar Named Desire" is acted by Rosemary

Businessman Praises Technology

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — At a time when the public seems to be growing uneasy about science and technology, one U.S. business leader is urging his fellowbusinessmen to hail technology's role in our society.

Addressing an industry meeting here, William T. Ylvisaker, president of Gould Inc., praised progress science has brought. "Technology has eliminated disease and pestilence, made deserts bloom and cities flourish, substituted machines for muscle, created affluence for the many and hope for all and provided the foundation on which the promise of our society now stands."

Ylvisaker asserted that persons in our society today can "march to a different drummer precisely because technology makes it possible for them to do so. In no society before this has it been possible for the common man to select life-styles like coats on a rack."

ORDINANCE NO. 924
AN ORDINANCE CONFIRMING THE AMENDED GENERAL PLAN FOR THE STORM AND SURFACE WATER DRAINAGE SYSTEM OF NORTH END STORM SEWER DISTRICT NO. 1, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, this Council caused published notice to be given as required by R. C. Section 727.46 that the amended general plan for the storm and surface water drainage system of North End Storm Sewer District No. 1, the boundaries of which are described in Ordinance No. 902, as amended by Ordinance No. 922, has been prepared and placed on file in the office of the Village Clerk for examination and inspection by parties interested; and

WHEREAS, no objections to said plan as amended have been filed;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the Village of Ashville, Pickaway County, Ohio:

Section 1. That this Council adopts and approves the general plan as amended and on file with the Clerk of this Village for the storm and surface water drainage system of North End Storm Sewer District No. 1 heretofore established by Ordinance No. 902 passed December 4, 1972, as amended by Ordinance No. 922 passed November 5, 1973.

Section 2. That this ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety and for the further reason that it is urgently necessary to provide storm and surface water drainage facilities in said district in order to preserve and protect the health and safety of the residents thereof; wherefore, this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and immediately after its passage.

Broughton Girl Dies In Blaze

BROUGHTON, Ohio (AP) — A 7-year-old Broughton girl died Wednesday night when fire destroyed her home. Two other children and her parents escaped injury.

Firemen from nearby Paulding, who blamed the blaze on a space heater, said Jolynne Saxton died of smoke inhalation.

Damage to the home was estimated at $13,500.

On Books And Activities At The Library

There's no greater fun than creating something with your hands! That's why millions of people have joined the ranks of the "do-it-yourself" hobbyist. Before you decide to "do something with your hands," browse through the new "do-it-yourself" books that are now coming in at the library.

Did you ever wonder how those intricate model sailing ships got into the bottles? Well, even if you don't want to make a model for yourself, it does give you a wonderful feeling of curiosity satisfied to see photographs and line drawings of how it is done. "Modelling in Bottles" by Jack Needham gives step by step instructions, with suggestions for ships worth modelling. "Model Boat Building" by Herb Lozier will appeal to model builders who prefer to make a simpler boat.

"Making Costume Dolls" by Jean Greenhowe gives suggestions for using readily available materials to make dolls and doll costumes. Instructions are clear, and costumes are historically accurate. Knowing how to sew is not necessary, for the dolls are put together with glue or wire. Excellent for children or adults who want to make dolls for Christmas.

The purpose of "Making Simple Constructions" by Hansi Bohm is to stimulate the reader to become aware of the exciting possibilities of this new art form. The author defines "constructions" as "three-dimensional pieces which serve no utilitarian purpose, but which satisfy the human need to play, to invent, and to create esthetically pleasing objects."

Other new craft books include: "Flower Pressing" by Peter and Susanne Bauzen; "Introducing Design Techniques: 78 Variations on a Theme" by Robin Capon; "Pottery Set-By-Set" by Henry Trevor; "Making Pictures in Paper and Fabric" by Mary Honeywood; "Colorful Glasscrafting" by Jos. H. Eppens-van Veens; and "Taking Up Sculpture" by Sean Mullaney.

Painting and drawing for pleasure have become increasingly popular as hobbies. The library has added many new titles on watercolor, oil painting, artist's materials and methods, pencil sketching and related subjects. There are books for the beginner, as well as the more advanced artist. New this week are the following titles: "Drawing from Nature" and "Express Yourself in Drawing" by Gerhard Gollwitzer; "Constructive Anatomy"

by George B. Bridgman; "Charcoal Drawing" by Henry C. Pitz; "Aquarelle and Watercolor Complete" by J. Van Ingen; "Painting Abstract Landscapes" by Paul W. Wood; and "Perspective: A Guide for Artists, Architects and Designers" by Gwen White. Of special interest to teachers is "Experiencing Art in the Elementary School" by George F. Horn and Grace Sands Smith.

For those whose hobby is growing things, either animal or plant, there are new titles on "How to Raise and Train Pigeons" revised and enlarged, by William H. Allen Jr.; "Tropical Fish in Your Home" by Herbert R. Axelrod; "House Plant Identifier" and "Cage Bird Identifier" by Helmut Bechtel.

New for coin collectors is "Appraising and Selling Your Coins," 8th Edition, 1973 (Green Book) by Robert Friedburg. "Hokus Pokus" by Ib Permin tells "how-to" for amateur magicians. For sports enthusiasts, new are: "Karate: Basic Principles" by A. Pfluger; "Swimming the Shane Gould Way" by Shirley Gould; and the 1973 Edition of "The Book of Baseball Records" by Seymour Siwoff.

Newly received National Geographic Publications include:

"American Mountain People" by Bruce Dale; "Primitive Worlds: People Lost in Time;" and "The Renaissance: Makers of Modern Man."

Young people home for the holidays may wish to look over the new 1974 "Summer Employment Directory of the United States." The early bird . . .

Two new paperbacks, "The Gospel of Luke" by John Drury and "The Epistles to the Corinthians" by E. M. Robertson are commentaries on the New Testament in Modern English by J. B. Phillips.

For those who prefer the spoken word, new records include: "It Can't Happen Here" by Sinclair Lewis, read by Michael Lewis; H. P. Lovecraft's "The Rats in the Walls" read by David McCallum; Kurt Vonnegut, Jr. reads "Cat's Cradle;" David McCallum reads Ambrose Bierce's "An Occurrence at Owl Creek Bridge and "The Damned Thing"; Anthony Burgess reads "A Clockwork Orange;" James Earl Jones reads Richard Wright's "Native Son." "Tennessee Williams" "A Streetcar Named Desire" is acted by Rosemary

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — At a time when the public seems to be growing uneasy about science and technology, one U.S. business leader is urging his fellowbusinessmen to hail technology's role in our society.

Addressing an industry meeting here, William T. Ylvisaker, president of Gould Inc., praised progress science has brought. "Technology has eliminated disease and pestilence, made deserts bloom and cities flourish, substituted machines for muscle, created affluence for the many and hope for all and provided the foundation on which the promise of our society now stands."

Ylvisaker asserted that persons in our society today can "march to a different drummer precisely because technology makes it possible for them to do so. In no society before this has it been possible for the common man to select life-styles like coats on a rack."

ORDINANCE NO. 924
AN ORDINANCE CONFIRMING THE AMENDED GENERAL PLAN FOR THE STORM AND SURFACE WATER DRAINAGE SYSTEM OF NORTH END STORM SEWER DISTRICT NO. 1, AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, this Council caused published notice to be given as required by R. C. Section 727.46 that the amended general plan for the storm and surface water drainage system of North End Storm Sewer District No. 1, the boundaries of which are described in Ordinance No. 902, as amended by Ordinance No. 922, has been prepared and placed on file in the office of the Village Clerk for examination and inspection by parties interested; and

WHEREAS, no objections to said plan as amended have been filed;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of the Village of Ashville, Pickaway County, Ohio:

Section 1. That this Council adopts and approves the general plan as amended and on file with the Clerk of this Village for the storm and surface water drainage system of North End Storm Sewer District No. 1 heretofore established by Ordinance No. 902 passed December 4, 1972, as amended by Ordinance No. 922 passed November 5, 1973.

Section 2. That this ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety and for the further reason that it is urgently necessary to provide storm and surface water drainage facilities in said district in order to preserve and protect the health and safety of the residents thereof; wherefore, this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and immediately after its passage.

Urge Removal Of Emission Equipment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Removing auto pollution control devices could save 350,000 barrels of oil a day, the president of the Ohio Petroleum Marketers Association said today.

James C. Krumme of Cincinnati suggested the devices be removed and that all homeowners be forced to reduce temperatures six degrees whether they were heated by gas, electricity or oil.

Krumme, at a news conference, said methods could be devised to keep homeowners' from using more fuel than they needed.

He said that the federal mandatory allocation program for oil that is scheduled to go into effect Dec. 27 would reduce the amount available for heating homes by one-half.

There will never be a return to the old prices of fuel, Krumme said, and the public should not be led into thinking there is a cheap price.

"Witness the misguided independent truckers imposing on fellow citizens blocking our highways asking for diesel prices that cannot be, now or ever," Krumme, vice president of Tressler Oil Co., said.

Nothing Unusual About Promotions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Alexander M. Haig, who rose from colonel to four-star general in four years, apparently finds nothing unusual in his rapid rise.

"I've had a standard military career," the chief of staff to President Nixon commented at one point Wednesday in federal court testimony on the Watergate case.

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return for the year ending January 1-December 31, 1972, or other taxable year. U.S. Treasury Department—Internal Revenue Service. Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

(Q.) Some of my furniture and belongings were damaged when my cellar was flooded. How do I compute my casualty loss deduction?

(A.) The first $100 of your uninsured non-business loss is not deductible. A separate $100 limitation applies to each individual casualty.

It is important that you make a list of the lost, damaged, or destroyed items as soon after the casualty as possible. For personal property, such as furniture, clothing, etc., the loss must be established item by item. To determine the amount of loss, you must know the original cost or other basis of the item to you and its fair market value just before the casualty. If you bought the item, you basis is usually your cost.

If the item is completely lost or destroyed, your loss is usually your basis or the fair market value just before the loss, whichever is less.

If the item is damaged, the loss is the difference between its fair market value just before the casualty and the fair market value just afterwards, limited to the basis. The decrease in the fair market value may often be measured by the cost of repairing the item.

For details on how to compute your loss for nonbusiness real property and a convenient workbook for determining your loss, see IRS Publication 584, "Workbook for Determining Your Disaster Loss." Contact your IRS office for a free copy.

(Q.) I was named "outstanding teacher" at my college and awarded a cash prize. The award was based on my overall past service to the college. Is the award tax free?

(A.) Although generally prizes and awards are taxable, those prizes awarded in recognition of past accomplishments in religious, charitable, scientific, artistic, educational, literary, or civic fields are not included in income if the recipient is selected without action on his part and is not expected to render any future services.

(Q.) Under what circumstances can travel to a foreign country be deducted as an employment-related educational expense?

(A.) Your expenditures for travel as a form of education are generally deductible to the extent the major portion of your travel activity during the period of travel directly maintains or improves skills required in your employment, trade, or business.

Here is an example of how the rules would operate: You are a teacher of French. While on sabbatical leave, granted for travel, you traveled in France to improve your knowledge of the French language. Your itinerary was chosen, and the major portion of your activities was undertaken, to improve your skills in the use and teaching of the French language, thus benefiting you as a teacher of French. You may deduct your travel expenses as educational expenses, even though your activities consisted largely of visiting French schools and families, attending motion pictures, plays, and lectures in the French language, and similar activities.

Had you been a teacher of English or mathematics, such a trip to France would not have maintained or improved your required skills, and your expenses would not have been deductible.

Chillicothean Promoted By Du Pont

ARNOLD S. BEE

Arnold S. Bee was recently promoted to the position of foreman in the quality control department of the local du Pont Mylar Plant.

He started with the company as an operator in manufacturing Dec. 12, 1960. He was later transferred to quality control.

A veteran with the United States Army, he was stationed in Korea. He is the son of Artie S. Bee and the late Mrs. Bee of Kingston.

He and his wife, Katherine and four children Sheri Lynn, Jon Allen, Rhonda Lynn and Eric Scott live in Chillicothe.

Man Falls To Death

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Joesph Zapata, 52, of Austin, Texas, plunged 20 feet to his death from a beam on the Clay Wade Bailey Bridge Thursday, landing on a city street.

Zapata, an iron worker, was employed by Construction, Inc., which is rebuilding the Ohio River span between Cincinnati and Covington, Ky.

Fewer Giving More To Churches

NEW YORK (AP) — Fewer are giving more.

That's the evidence of new figures showing that contributions to the churches, which had sagged in recent years, are on the way up again.

Several major denominations—Southern Baptists, United Methodists, the United Church of Christ—report the latest 1973 statistics bear out the upward trend.

Yet the greater amount, in most cases, comes from a smaller number of people.

According to the newly accumulated broader figures, Americans dropped 5.2 per cent more into church collection plates last year than in the year before. The gain exceeded the 3.2 per cent rise in living costs by nearly 2 per cent.

The findings are based on a compilation by the National Council of Churches of statistics from 39 denominations. Altogether they received $4.6 billion in 1972, about $229 million more than in the previous year.

The total does not include revenues of many other Protestant denominations, nor the Roman Catholic Church. Counting these, indications are that the sum of United States religious giving is approaching $9 billion annually.

However, as a partial but substantial index to giving habits in the country, the newest figures bring out the paradoxical aspect of more money coming from fewer people.

Ten major denominations, all showing some losses in membership, reported receiving $2.6 billion last year—$88 million more than before. Yet their over-all membership declined 1.5 million to a total of 28.3 million.

As a result, their membership losses average about 5 per cent, while their income gained 3.5 per cent. Per capita giving averaged $103.33, up nearly 7 per cent from the $96.74 of the previous year.

The 10 denominations are: The American Baptist Churches, Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), Episcopal Church, Lutheran Church in America, Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, United Presbyterian Church, Presbyterian Church U.S. (southern), Reformed Church in America, United Church of Christ and United Methodist Church.

The more conservative Southern Baptist Convention, whose 12 million members make it the nation's largest Protestant body, reported contributions slightly over $1 billion—the first Protestant body to top the billion-dollar mark.

The Southern Baptist gain was higher than most other groups—up $96 million from the previous year's $974 million—a gain of almost 10 per cent. Southern Baptists also gained members, but not at the rate of the revenue increase.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

(Q.) Some of my furniture and belongings were damaged when my cellar was flooded. How do I compute my casualty loss deduction?

(A.) The first $100 of your uninsured non-business loss is not deductible. A separate $100 limitation applies to each individual casualty.

It is important that you make a list of the lost, damaged, or destroyed items as soon after the casualty as possible. For personal property, such as furniture, clothing, etc., the loss must be established item by item. To determine the amount of loss, you must know the original cost or other basis of the item to you and its fair market value just before the casualty. If you bought the item, your basis is usually your cost.

If the item is completely lost or destroyed, your loss is usually your basis or the fair market value just before the loss, whichever is less.

If the item is damaged, the loss is the difference between its fair market value just before the casualty and the fair market value just afterwards, limited to the basis. The decrease in the fair market value may often be measured by the cost of repairing the item.

For details on how to compute your loss for nonbusiness real property and a convenient workbook for determining your loss, see IRS Publication 584, "Workbook for Determining Your Disaster Loss." Contact your IRS office for a free copy.

(Q.) I was named "outstanding teacher" at my college and awarded a cash prize. The award was based on my overall past service to the college. Is the award tax free?

(A.) Although generally prizes and awards are taxable, those prizes awarded in recognition of past accomplishments in religious, charitable, scientific, artistic, educational, literary, or civic fields are not included in income if the recipient is selected without action on his part and is not expected to render any future services.

(Q.) Under what circumstances can travel to a foreign country be deducted as an employment-related educational expense?

(A.) Your expenditures for travel as a form of education are generally deductible to the extent the major portion of your travel activity during the period of travel directly maintains or improves skills required in your employment, trade, or business.

Here is an example of how the rules would operate: You are a teacher of French. While on sabbatical leave, granted for travel, you traveled in France to improve your knowledge of the French language. Your itinerary was chosen, and the major portion of your activities was undertaken, to improve your skills in the use and teaching of the French language, thus benefiting you as a teacher of French. You may deduct your travel expenses as educational expenses, even though your activities consisted largely of visiting French schools and families, attending motion pictures, plays, and lectures in the French language, and similar activities.

Had you been a teacher of English or mathematics, such a trip to France would not have maintained or improved your required skills, and your expenses would not have been deductible.

Chillicothean Promoted By Du Pont

ARNOLD S. BEE

Arnold S. Bee was recently promoted to the position of foreman in the quality control department of the local Du Pont Mylar Plant.

He started with the company as an operator in manufacturing Dec. 12, 1960. He was later transferred to quality control.

A veteran with the United States Army, he was stationed in Korea. He is the son of Artie S. Bee and the late Mrs. Bee of Kingston.

He and his wife, Katherine and four children Sheri Lynn, Jon Allen, Rhonda Lynn and Eric Scott live in Chillicothe.

Man Falls To Death

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Joseph Zapata, 52, of Austin, Texas, plunged 20 feet to his death from a beam on the Clay Wade Bailey Bridge Thursday, landing on a city street.

Zapata, an iron worker, was employed by Construction, Inc., which is rebuilding the Ohio River span between Cincinnati and Covington, Ky.

Fewer Giving More To Churches

NEW YORK (AP) — Fewer are giving more.

That's the evidence of new figures showing that contributions to the churches, which had sagged in recent years, are on the way up again.

Several major denominations—Southern Baptists, United Methodists, the United Church of Christ—report the latest 1973 statistics bear out the upward trend.

Yet the greater amount, in most cases, comes from a smaller number of people.

According to the newly accumulated broader figures, Americans dropped 5.2 per cent more into church collection plates last year than in the year before. The gain exceeded the 3.2 per cent rise in living costs by nearly 2 per cent.

The findings are based on a compilation by the National Council of Churches of statistics from 39 denominations. Altogether they received $4.6 billion in 1972, about $229 million more than in the previous year.

The total does not include revenues of many other Protestant denominations, nor the Roman Catholic Church. Counting these, indications are that the sum of United States religious giving is approaching $9 billion annually.

However, as a partial but substantial index to giving habits in the country, the newest figures bring out the paradoxical aspect of more money coming from fewer people.

Ten major denominations, all showing some losses in membership, reported receiving $2.6 billion last year—$88 million more than before. Yet their over-all membership declined 1.5 million to a total of 28.3 million.

As a result, their membership losses average about 5 per cent, while their income gained 3.5 per cent. Per capita giving averaged $103.33, up nearly 7 per cent from the $96.74 of the previous year.

The 10 denominations are: The American Baptist Churches, Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), Episcopal Church, Lutheran Church in America, Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, United Presbyterian Church, Presbyterian Church U.S. (southern), Reformed Church in America, United Church of Christ and United Methodist Church.

The more conservative Southern Baptist Convention, whose 12 million members make it the nation's largest Protestant body, reported contributions slightly over $1 billion—the first Protestant body to top the billion-dollar mark.

The Southern Baptist gain was higher than most other groups—up $96 million from the previous year's $974 million—a gain of almost 10 per cent. Southern Baptists also gained members, but not at the rate of the revenue increase.

Enrollment Rise In Colleges Seen

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A University of Cincinnati expert on college enrollments says a study shows that overall enrollments are up 1.8 per cent over last year in 1,416 test schools in the United States and Puerto Rico.

Dr. Garland Parker, vice provost for admissions and records at UC, reported the trends in his annual survey released today.

The survey was prepared for a copyrighted article in the February issue of "Intellect" magazine. The study is now in its 54th year.

Rep. Regula Enjoys Congress

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rep. Ralph S. Regula of Navarre, one of the many state lawmakers who wound up in Congress, has found adjustment difficult but he likes his new job.

The Stark County Republican, who served in both houses of the Ohio legislature before being elected to Congress in November, 1972, put it this way on a recent stopover in Columbus:

"When I was here I could introduce a bill and watch it go somewhere. It certainly isn't that way on the hill.

"But, it has its rewards. You become aware of the importance of what you're doing."

The freshman congressman already has broken ranks with the Nixon administration on a couple of pieces of major legislation.

"I voted to override the veto of the war powers amendment and the minimum wage bill," Regula said.

He smiled a denial of "Saxbe strategy" to gain favor with the administration when reporters asked him about the President's nomination of Sen. William B. Saxbe, R-Ohio, as Attorney General after the Ohio senator had become one of the administration's more outspoken critics.

"But, I did vote to override those vetoes," he grinned.

Lt. Gov. John W. Brown reports his 32-member energy task force will make hard recommendations on immediate and long range energy saving moves by Dec. 15, a month earlier than previously planned.

And one recommendation, he said, will be a four-day work week for state employees so state offices will not use energy during three days of the week during the winter heating season.

At least one member of the task force created by the lieutenant governor with the help of the University of Dayton "already has said he will recommend a four-day work week," the statehouse Republican said.

New legislative rules permit state lawmakers to prefile bills when the General Assembly is out of session in order to prevent big logjams of bills when a session begins, usually around the first of the year.

Sen. Paul L. Gillmore, R-2 Port Clinton, who probably will run for a statewide office in 1974, wasted no time after voters lifted a $3,000 ceiling on state income tax exemptions in the November election.

He turned in a measure that would raise individual exemptions from $500 to $750 a year and would remove the existing ceiling of six exemptions an individual taxpayer can claim.

"The amount of tax relief for Ohioans under the bill will be $40 million a year," Gillmore said.

SPORTS

The Circleville Herald, Friday December 7, 1973 11

Willie's Dillies

By BILL McGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

It appears that someone is going to get a chance to see how it feels when the shoe is on the other foot and it's going to be interesting to see what happens.

The rumor mill has been distributing the knowledge that the Cleveland Indians are putting their ace righthander, Gaylord Perry, on the trading block.

Perry, who has been accused of hurling everything except his eye teeth at the batters, carries a big price tag and the Indians are not going to accept anything short of a bonanza in exchange for the big guy.

It will be interesting to see who is going to pay the price. He is certainly a winner and will strengthen any pitching staff. But what if he goes to one of the clubs who have been screaming about the "hard, damp horsehide" that he has been accused of flinging at the batters.—And this includes most of the teams that have felt they have been "splattered by the spitter."

Will they now change their tune and deny the accusations? Will the Indians, who have defended Perry as a member of their staff, be expected to accuse the hurler of being an expectorating expeditor?

Only time will tell but it is going to be interesting.

Our "fearless" forecast—Tigers will take two . . . Vikings to rap the Rangers . . . Braves will top the Irish . . . Mustangs to finally find the open range . . . And in the big one, Browns over the Bengals.

Until next time, have a nice day-be a good sport.

Hiram, Defiance Debut In Ohio College Case Action

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Hiram and Defiance, college basketball champions a year ago, face league competition this weekend with strong 1973-74 models.

Hiram, which rolled to the President's Conference title with a 13-1 league mark last season, makes its PC debut at Washington and Jefferson Saturday night.

Defiance, the Hoosier-Buckeye champion with a trio of regulars returning, bids for its second straight league triumph at home against

Clark Raps Jinx Talk With Browns

CINCINNATI (AP) — Newcomer Charles "Boobie" Clark, whose bullish running has pushed the Cincinnati Bengals to the threshold of a playoff berth, thinks it's time to put a stop to talk of a Cleveland jinx.

"I've heard people say Cleveland knows how to stop everything we do because Coach Paul Brown ran the same offense when he was with the Browns," said the 245-pound rookie running back.

"Everybody knew what Green Bay was going to run when Lombardi coached them—but they kept winning. "We just have to play hardnosed football and make no mistakes," he said.

Cleveland holds a 6-1 edge in the heated intra-state rivalry. Sunday's showdown in Cincinnati could decide the deadlocked division race.

Clark, a 12th round draft choice, is the National Football League's only rookie launching a strong assault on the 1,000-yard mark. Pittsburgh's Franco Harris was the only rookie to reach the mark last year.

Clark has 862 yards and needs to average 69 in each of the remaining games with Cleveland and Houston. The hard-running 6-foot-2 back places a playoff berth ahead of any personal honors.

"But I guess I'd be a little disappointed if I don't win it. I don't know what else you have to do," said the Bethune-Cookman (Fla.) College product.

He trails veteran Essex Johnson by 12 yards for the team leadership in rushing. Johnson has 874.

Gerry Philbin Slates Retirement This Year

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — After 10 years in the National Football League, defensive end Gerry Philbin of the Philadelphia Eagles says he has done everything he wanted to in professional football and will retire at the end of the current season.

Philbin, 32, announced his retirement on Thursday, three days before the Eagles were to play the New York Jets, the team Philbin played with for nine years.

Catcher Randy Hundley of the Chicago Cubs set a major league rookie record in 1966 when he hit 19 home runs while playing 149 games.

CHS Matmen Open Season

Coach Brent Bell has had his Circleville wrestling squad hard at work for the past month in preparation for the season opener 1 p.m. Saturday when the Tigers host the Indians of Hillsboro in a dual meet at the high school gym.

Forty candidates turned out for the opening practice and after a lot of hard work and conditioning the field has been narrowed down to 33 grapplers.

Team leadership is expected to come from seven returning veterans. Senior lettermen coming back are: Steve

Watters, Joe Smith, Jim Payne and Roger Davis, all two-year lettermen, and Tim Wilkinson and Joy McCoy,

one-year letter winners. Ben McDaniels is the only returning junior letterman.

A lot of help is expected to come from juniors Scott Bowman, Dave Bond, Bruce Brudzinski and Pat McNaughton.

"This year's squad is blessed with an outstanding group of sophomores and the battle for many of the starting berths should be tremendous," coach Bell commented.

"Andy Smith, Dave Defrank, Jim Cordle, Brett Christy, Tom England, Jeff Lackey, John Payne, Randy Swoyer, Sam Webb, and Tom Marshall are all in contention for starting berths," Bell said.

Coach Bell feels that the toughest competition for the Tigers will come against Grove City and Whetstone and in the Licking Heights tournament and the Top 8 at DeSales.

Circleville will have two big events on tap when the Tigers host the eight-team Circleville Invitational and the South Central Ohio League meet.

Here is the complete Circleville schedule:

Dec. 8 Hillsboro, 1 p.m.
Dec. 14 At Grove City, 7 p.m.
Dec. 22 Circleville Invitational, 11 a.m.

Little Tigers Top Mt. Logan Twice

Circleville's freshman and eighth grade cage teams both came up with victories over Chillicothe Mt. Logan Thursday.

The Tiger freshman topped visiting Mt. Logan, 43-33, with Frank Merrill leading the way with 13 points and Brian Price adding nine. Doug Cousins paced Mt. Logan with 12.

Circleville's eighth graders led all the way as they downed Mt. Logan, 41-30, on the loser's floor. Toren Bensonhaver had 14 points for the Tigers and Dave Holbrook hooped nine. Kevin Bayless had 16 for Mt. Logan.

Both Tiger teams will see action Tuesday with the freshmen traveling to Washington C.H. and the eighth graders hosting the Blue Lions.

Carolina Cougars Eye Cincy Move

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Carolina Cougars of the American Basketball Association have expressed interest in moving to Cincinnati, according to an official of Cincinnati Sports, Inc.

Brian Heekin, president of the local sports conglomerate, which engineered development of the Cincinnati Coliseum, confirmed he discussed the matter with Tedd Munchak, chairman of the Cougars board.

The Cincinnati Enquirer reported today that Munchak told Heekin he was no longer interested in a regional team, playing at several home locations. He wanted to locate the team in a metropolitan area.

Heekin's group owns 40 per cent of the Kentucky Colonels and the ABA team has signed a 10-year lease to play at least 16 games and a third of all playoff contests in the coliseum after it is completed in 1975.

CSI also has a World Hockey Association franchise for 1976 and a tentative agreement for a World Tennis team.

"It's not negotiation, it's conversation," Heekin said of his telephone call from Munchak. He said Munchak indicated he wanted to continue talks.

"He wanted to sell a portion of the team and offered a full (42 game) schedule," said Heekin.

CSI's agreement with the Kentucky Colonels' majority owners at present this year brings in 10 games to the city.

LE Freshmen Top A-C Aces, 41-39

Logan Elm's freshman team ran its season record to 2-0 with a narrow 41-39 win over Amanda Clearcreek on the Aces' court Thursday.

Steve Bowling hooped 19 points for the Braves and Dave Swackhammer chipped in with eight. L. Daniels had 17 for the Aces and M. Cassill added 11.

Logan Elm will host Berne Union Thursday.

Wolverine Honored As Champs Of West

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — While deprived of a Rose Bowl berth, the University of Michigan football team still was honored by the Michigan Legislature Thursday as "truly the 'Champions of the West'."

The legislature also said in the resolution that the Wolverines was "unjustly deprived of their rightful chance at the 1974 Rose Bowl."

Big Ten athletic directors instead selected Ohio State, which tied Michigan 10-10. Both teams were undefeated in the season.

TV Wrestlers Open

Teays Valley's wrestling team will open the season Saturday at home in a dual meet with Franklin Heights.

The reserves will get underway at noon with the varsity action starting at 1:30 p.m.

Viking Juniors Drop Two Tilts

Teays Valley's seventh and eighth cage squads both dropped decisions to visiting Reynoldsburg Thursday.

The seventh graders went down by a score of 27-24 to Reynoldsburg. Jeff Welsh had 11 points and Yancy Toney added seven for the little Vikings. May had 15 for the winners.

The Viking eighth graders were defeated, 37-29, by the visitors. Dennis Werner, Rick Queen and Bill Dowell each had eight points for the Vikings. Hawthorne paced Reynoldsburg with 15 markers.

Both Teays Valley teams are 2-1 for the season and will be at Mt. Sterling Tuesday.

The Circleville Herald, Friday December 7, 1973 11

Willie's Dillies

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

It appears that someone is going to get a chance to see how it feels when the shoe is on the other foot and it's going to be interesting to see what happens.

The rumor mill has been distributing the knowledge that the Cleveland Indians are putting their ace righthander, Gaylord Perry, on the trading block.

Perry, who has been accused of hurling everything except his eye teeth at the batters, carries a big price tag and the Indians are not going to accept anything short of a bonanza in exchange for the big guy.

It will be interesting to see who is going to pay the price. He is certainly a winner and will strengthen any pitching staff. But what if he goes to one of the clubs who have been screaming about the "hard, damp horsehide" that he has been accused of flinging at the batters.—And this includes most of the teams that have felt they have been "splattered by the spitter."

Will they now change their tune and deny the accusations? Will the Indians, who have defended Perry as a member of their staff, be expected to accuse the hurler of being an expectorating expeditor?

Only time will tell but it is going to be interesting.

Our "fearless" forecast—Tigers will take two . . . Vikings to rap the Rangers . . . Braves will top the Irish . . . Mustangs to finally find the open range . . . And in the big one, Browns over the Bengals.

Until next time, have a nice day-be a good sport.

Hiram, Defiance Debut In Ohio College Case Action

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Hiram and Defiance, college basketball champions a year ago, face league competition this weekend with strong 1973-74 models.

Hiram, which rolled to the President's Conference title with a 13-1 league mark last season, makes its PC debut at Washington and Jefferson Saturday night.

Defiance, the Hoosier-Buckeye champion with a trio of regulars returning, bids for its second straight league triumph at home against Taylor Saturday night.

The other defending champions, Miami of the Mid-American and Wittenberg of the Ohio Conference, are involved in outside competition. The Redskins entertain Purdue and the Tigers are home for Ashland.

Ohio State continues its Big Ten tuneups at home against unbeaten Penn State, 2-0 to the Buckeyes' 1-1 record.

Friday night action has Kent State playing Texas-El Paso in the Missouri Classic, Steubenville going against Buffalo in the Steubenville tournament and John Carroll at Washington and Jefferson.

Then Saturday afternoon, Dayton plays Long Island as part of a Madison Square Garden doubleheader in New York and Ohio University entertains Eastern Michigan.

Saturday night games involving Ohio majors have Eastern Illinois at Bowling Green, Thomas More at Xavier, Cincinnati at Temple and Kent State in the Missouri tournament again.

Elsewhere, Baldwin-Wallace is at Kenyon, Ohio Northern at Ohio Wesleyan, Capital at Wabash, Wooster at Case Western Reserve, Bluffton at Findlay, Urbana at Marietta, Heidelberg at Wright State, Carnegie-Mellon at Oberlin, John Carroll at Bethany, South Dakota at Cleveland State, Akron at Roanoke, New Hampshire at Youngstown, Central State at Northwood, Ind., Wilberforce at Ohio Dominican, Wilmington at Berea, Ky., Walsh at Denison, Cedarville at Rio Grande, Tiffin at Northwood, Mich., and Steubenville in its own tournament.

Cleveland holds a 6-1 edge in the heated intra-state rivalry. Sunday's showdown in Cincinnati could decide the deadlocked division race.

Clark, a 12th round draft choice, is the National Football League's only rookie launching a strong assault on the 1,000-yard mark. Pittsburgh's Franco Harris was the only rookie to reach the mark last year.

Clark has 862 yards and needs to average 69 in each of the remaining games with Cleveland and Houston.

The hard-running 6-foot-2 back places a playoff berth ahead of any personal honors.

"But I guess I'd be a little disappointed if I don't win it. I don't know what else you have to do," said the Bethune-Cookman (Fla.) College product.

He trails veteran Essex Johnson by 12 yards for the team leadership in rushing. Johnson has 874.

Gerry Philbin Slates Retirement This Year

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — After 10 years in the National Football League, defensive end Gerry Philbin of the Philadelphia Eagles says he has done everything he wanted to in professional football and will retire at the end of the current season.

Philbin, 32, announced his retirement on Thursday, three days before the Eagles were to play the New York Jets, the team Philbin played with for nine years.

Catcher Randy Hundley of the Chicago Cubs set a major league rookie record in 1966 when he hit 19 home runs while playing 149 games.

CHS Matmen Open Season

Coach Brent Bell has had his Circleville wrestling squad hard at work for the past month in preparation for the season opener 1 p.m. Saturday when the Tigers host the Indians of Hillsboro in a dual meet at the high school gym.

Forty candidates turned out for the opening practice and after a lot of hard work and conditioning the field has been narrowed down to 33 grapplers.

Team leadership is expected to come from seven returning veterans. Senior lettermen coming back are: Steve

Watters, Joe Smith, Jim Payne and Roger Davis, all two-year lettermen, and Tim Wilkinson and Joy McCoy,

one-year letter winners. Ben McDaniels is the only returning junior letterman.

A lot of help is expected to come from juniors Scott Bowman, Dave Bond, Bruce Brudzinski and Pat McNaughton.

"This year's squad is blessed with an outstanding group of sophomores and the battle for many of the starting berths should be tremendous," coach Bell commented.

"Andy Smith, Dave Defrank, Jim Cordle, Brett Christy, Tom England, Jeff Lackey, John Payne, Randy Swoyer, Sam Webb, and Tom Marshall are all in contention for starting berths," Bell said.

Coach Bell feels that the toughest competition for the Tigers will come against Grove City and Whetstone and in the Licking Heights tournament and the Top 8 at DeSales.

Circleville will have two big events on tap when the Tigers host the eight-team Circleville Invitational and the South Central Ohio League meet.

Here is the complete Circleville schedule:

Dec. 8 Hillsboro, 1 p.m.
Dec. 14 At Grove City, 7 p.m.
Dec. 22 Circleville Invitational, 11 a.m.
Jan. 5 Wilmington and Madison Plains, 1 p.m.

Trucker Organization Eyed

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Truckers say their highway blockades may lead to an independent drivers association rivaling the Teamsters union and representing tens of thousands of colleagues who now belong to nothing.

The independents are owner-operators who often owe most of the $30,000 their rigs can cost and must keep rolling to meet monthly loan payments of perhaps $500, plus other expenses of 50 cents a mile.

They found themselves with no one to voice their gripes to when dissatisfaction grew heated in the past three weeks as fuel supplies dwindled.

It led to a 36-hour blockade by 2,000 truckers who tied up 112 miles of the Ohio Turnpike.

Ford In Future For Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Gerald R. Ford has the background and temperament to become a far more significant influence in Congress than Spiro T. Agnew.

Relaxed and informal, the 60-year-old veteran of a quartercentury of House service is on a first-name basis with the key figures on Capitol Hill in both parties.

In contrast, Agnew was an outsider who never overcame a basic mistrust among veteran lawmakers, who figured they had been there before him and would be there after he had left.

In the months following his 1969 inauguration, Agnew spent a lot of time in the Senate, presiding over its deliberations and seeking to influence votes for the President's proposals.

That backfired. At least one veteran GOP conservative, former Sen. Len B. Jordan of Idaho, told the vice president he would vote against any measure on which Agnew tried to lobby him.

In time, Agnew stayed away from the Capitol, spending his time in his downtown office, making speeches around the country and traveling the globe as a presidential emissary.

He appeared at the Senate only for occasional close votes. Just once in 4½ years, on an Alaska pipeline bill last July, did he cast a decisive Senate vote.

Ford, by contrast, has said he expects his prime responsibility as President Nixon's new vice president to be in dealing with Congress.

He comes into office at a time when a combination of Democratic majorities and growing GOP restiveness amid Watergate are spelling increasing trouble for the President.

Within the past month, Congress for the first time this year overrode a Nixon veto, on the bill limiting presidential powers to commit U.S. armed forces to overseas war.

Ford's job will be made easier by his close relationships at both ends of Pennsylvania Avenue. He is much closer to Nixon, whom he has known for a quarter century, than was Agnew, and has worked closely with Senate GOP Leader Hugh Scott and other key congressmen and senators.

At the same time, this closeness could complicate his life enormously if the GOP restiveness increases into widespread demands for Nixon's impeachment or resignation.

League Of Cities Convention Seeks Carryover Money

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — Members attending the national league of cities convention in San Juan endorsed a motion backed by Dayton, Ohio, aimed at securing carryover money for 700 federally-funded jobs.

"Such transition funding arrangements must be clearly and quickly set forth by the administration and the Congress," the motion endorsed Thursday said, "so that cities will not suffer costly, irreplaceable losses in their current community development program capacities."

The resolution charged that the Nixon administration, "by its short-funding, defunding, suspensions and impoundments ... has placed existing local community development efforts in an uncertain and untenable position with the potential termination of present activities at the end of fiscal year 1974."

The Dayton motion, already adopted by the resolutions committee, passed without protest from the floor.

Driver Terry Mahoney of Erie, Pa., said the stoppage was planned Tuesday when he and about 100 others met at a turnpike service plaza and then passed the word via citizen band radios many drivers carry in their cabs.

"Look what we could do with just this little bit of organization," said Leon Todd, a Detroit, Mich. driver whose rig was enmeshed in the blockade but who said he had nothing to do with the planning.

He finished his haul to Cleveland after the stoppage broke up Thursday but rejoined lingering drivers to push for "an organization that can get us some answers to our problems."

Another driver already was canvassing support for a veteran operator he felt should head such an organization.

Todd and others said the Teamsters union did nothing for them except take their union dues.

He and others also voiced concern that the Teamsters would move to block any effort to set up an organization for the independent drivers. Many believed the Teamsters would bring violence into such a fight.

The truckers' complaints center on demands for lower fuel prices and higher speed limits. They include charges of routine harassment by highway patrolmen virtually nationwide.

The truckers oppose using their taxes to support financially stricken railroads which compete for freight business. And they are tired of having to buy a variety of state license tags instead of a single federal plate.

Few of the truckers seemed dissatisfied with what their blockade had achieved, but many said it was the first time truckers had worked together.

And at least three dozen drivers said individually they wanted someone to speak for them in Washington and to state governments.

"We've always had these problems," Todd said, "they're just coming out now because of the fuel situation. And we're just finding out what we can do if we'd all get together and stick together."

Ohio Bell Set To End 'Free' Calls

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Bell said Thursday it plans to end a "rip-off" of fraudulent telephone calls amounting to nearly $15,000 a month.

Joseph Jester, Ohio Bell's district commercial manager, said the problem "has gotten out of hand. We're going to prosecute until the thing goes way down."

Jester said the average credit card fraud amounts to $14,500 a month in the central Ohio district and about $5,000 of that comes from the Ohio State University area.

He said police arrested three freshmen OSU students last week and more arrests are expected.

Callers use fake credit card numbers to make long-distance connections without paying.

Ohio Bell uses a computer and electrical and mechanical tracking equipment to trace the fake calls, he said.

"And there is a heck of a good chance of getting caught and being prosecuted for it," he said.

Maximum penalties are $500 fine and seven years in prison.

Prince Charles Unhurt In Crash

LONDON (AP) — Prince Charles was unhurt in a three car pileup while driving his own Range Rover, Buckingham Palace says.

The occupants of the other cars also escaped unhurt from the accident Thursday in a village near Weymouth on England's south coast.

Charles, 25, eldest son of Queen Elizabeth, was driving from Weymouth where he is attending a course in connection with his duties as a Royal Navy officer.

Maloney Criticizes Federal Gas Policy

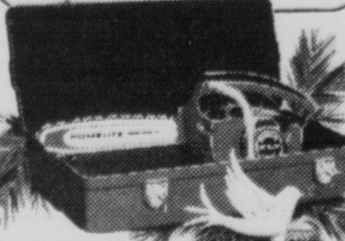

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, said Thursday the Nixon Administration's plan to control gasoline use with individual quotas, higher prices and taxes "will be a kick in the slats to the little guy."

Maloney, assistant Senate majority leader, said the plan is "discrimination based on economic standing and ought to be abandoned."

Ford, by contrast, has said he expects his prime responsibility as President Nixon's new vice president to be in dealing with Congress.

He comes into office at a time when a combination of Democratic majorities and growing GOP restiveness amid Watergate are spelling increasing trouble for the President.

Within the past month, Congress for the first time this year overrode a Nixon veto, on the bill limiting presidential powers to commit U.S. armed forces to overseas war.

Ford's job will be made easier by his close relationships at both ends of Pennsylvania Avenue. He is much closer to Nixon, whom he has known for a quarter century, than was Agnew, and has worked closely with Senate GOP Leader Hugh Scott and other key congressmen and senators.

At the same time, this closeness could complicate his life enormously if the GOP restiveness increases into widespread demands for Nixon's impeachment or resignation.

League Of Cities Convention Seeks Carryover Money

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — Members attending the national league of cities convention in San Juan endorsed a motion backed by Dayton, Ohio, aimed at securing carryover money for 700 federally-funded jobs.

"Such transition funding arrangements must be clearly and quickly set forth by the administration and the Congress," the motion endorsed Thursday said, "so that cities will not suffer costly, irreplaceable losses in their current community development program capacities."

The resolution charged that the Nixon administration, "by its short-funding, defunding, suspensions and impoundments ... has placed existing local community development efforts in an uncertain and untenable position with the potential termination of present activities at the end of fiscal year 1974."

The Dayton motion, already adopted by the resolutions committee, passed without protest from the floor.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

How Do You Tell?

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I became friendly with a couple who recently moved into our building. They are charming, intellectual people, but their apartment is always filthy and has a terrible lingering odor.

They are constantly asking us over for a drink or dinner (yech!) and whenever possible we reverse the invitation because we'd rather not eat there and we can't stand the odor.

We're not fanatics about cleanliness, but their kitchen floor is so gummy our shoes actually stick to it. Well, you get the idea.

Is there a subtle or tactful way to suggest they clean up their place and get rid of the odor? We hate to hurt their feelings or lose their friendship.

NEW NEIGHBORS
DEAR NEW: I know of no subtle or tactful way to tell people to clean up their place and get rid of the odor. If you enjoy the company of these charming intellectuals, continue to reverse their invitations.

DEAR ABBY: I am furious. I had some used porch furniture, a pool table, and an antique bookcase, all in excellent condition stored in my basement. My daughter in law and son saw all this stuff and said they could use it, so I PAID to have it all hauled to their home.

The other day when I was there I didn't see any of the things I had sent them. My daughter in law noticed the puzzled expression on my face and said: "Oh, after all that stuff got here, I realized it didn't fit in this place, so I sold it to a second hand dealer."

Abby, how would you have felt? And what would you have said had this happened to you?

HURT, DISAPPOINTED, AND ANGRY
DEAR H., D. AND A.: I would have felt as you did, and would have probably expressed those sentiments.

DEAR ABBY: I work in my husband's office, as a corporate secretary. I am expected to sign legal papers I know nothing about, type up and sign minutes of meetings that never took place, and just be there when I'm needed and then disappear.

I am never included in financial meetings, but I must cosign all notes and legal papers. When businessmen come to the office, I am not even introduced, and when my husband takes them to lunch, I am not included.

I know I am needed because I keep the records, do the payroll, write and sign all the checks, and do many jobs that would be costly to hire someone to do. I work for no pay!

We've had to give up most of our social life because we both work all the time. I don't know how long I can continue living in this pattern. We have a fantastic business, but what good is the money if all we do is work! You once said: "No one can use you for a doormat unless you lie down."

Well, it's not all that easy to get up without destroying more than you care to give up.

NO NAME

DEAR NO: Collar your husband and state your complaints. Don't expect to improve your lot by complaining to ME!

CONFIDENTIAL TO HANGING ON: I have no statistics on how many men eventually marry the women with whom they have lived. But I can't imagine why a man would run after a bus he has already caught.

A family night was enjoyed at the Trinity Methodist Church Sunday with a carryin supper. There were approximately 60 present to enjoy the occasion.

Mr. Woodson, the youth leader, was in charge of the program. A tree was trimmed in the sanctuary with Christian symbols of white and gold which were all made by the group.

The meaning of each symbol was given by Mr. Woodson. Christmas Carols were sung by the group. Donald DeLong sang carols accompanied by Jean West at the piano while the tree was trimmed. A most enjoyable evening was had by all present.

CP & LE Railroad Runs At Profit

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — Emile A. Legros and George A. Roose run an old railroad that makes a profit handily — but it's only 1½ miles long.

The Cedar Point & Lake Erie railway, a narrow gauge line, hauled three million amusement part visitors during the resort's four-month summer operation, the pair said.

They said it earned four times its $165,000 cost.

Its six antique locomotives came from quarries, coal mines, sugar cane plantations, brick works and canning factories — and a historical display. Four other are being restored, repaired or kept in readiness. About 25 coaches complete the rolling stock.

One locomotive has a solid mahogany cab. Bought in Louisiana for $5,000, it cost $35,000 to put on the line.

The owners say some riders suspect the chugging smoke is fake, thinking diesel engines are hidden inside locomotive boilers. So they have operators show the blaze in the firebox.

Eckert Resigns From State Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — E. E. Eckert, deputy director of the Ohio Department of Insurance, resigned Thursday. He was under fire for possible illegal campaign contributions.

Eckert said in his resignation that he met with the special federal prosecutor's staff in Washington, D.C., concerning the allegedly illegal $2,900 contributions.

"It was at that meeting that I first determined the possible illegality of campaign contributions made by me during the 1970 general election," he said.

Eckert, an employee of American Shipbuilding Co. at the time, said an officer of the firm had assured him the contributions were within the law.

Wholesale Prices Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ignited by record costs for fuel, wholesale prices leaped sharply in November, the Department of Labor said today.

The department said the wholesale price index rose 1.8 per cent last month on a seasonally adjusted basis and 1.6 per cent on an unadjusted basis, reversing a two-month trend in which wholesale prices had declined.

Wholesale prices of fuels, and other energy products jumped 19.3 per cent, the highest on record for one month. It surpassed the previous high of 4.1 per cent in January 1948.

Despite the increase in fuel costs, prices for farm products and processed foods and feed dropped sharply, falling 1.5 per cent below October, the report said.

Prices of consumer foods, those bought by suppliers ready for the supermarket, were down six-tenths of one per cent on a seasonally adjusted basis and showed a small one-tenth of one per cent rise before seasonal pricing patterns were taken into account.

Coach Lawhorn Says League Is Balanced

By RICK BUMGARNER

"To sum up the SCOL this year, I would use the word balanced."

This is how Coach Lawhorn expressed his views on the basketball teams in the SCOL.

Miami Trace and Washington Court House seem to be favorites for the crown. The Fayette County "Titans" have both the size and the experience needed to become champions.

Miami Trace has the inside track as three starters from last year's 16-8 co-championship team are back. The nucleus of the "Panther Power" will be six-foot-six center Dave Persinger, forwards Randy Reiber and Dave Steinhouse, and guards Phil Skinner and Steve Mowery. With these men Trace has a well-balanced attack.

Washington Court House is another team which has size and scoring punch. Wallace and Knisely are the big guns for Court House. The Blue Lions also start two outstanding sophomore players, Phillips and Byrd, so they could get better as the season progresses.

The Indians from Hillsboro have three returning starters from last year's team, including All-SCOL guard Kevin Bailey and two six-foot-two forwards. Title hopes are high in Indian Country, but the lack of a big man may be the downfall of the team.

Unlike Hillsboro, Wilmington's strength lies in its returning center, six-foot-two Randy Reeder. This big man not only can rebound, but he also has excellent one-on-one moves. The "Gale" also combines excellent ball-handling with quickness, which makes them a definite threat to upset anyone.

The Tiger team from Circleville hasn't been picked as a top contender in the SCOL. However, Coach Lawhorn's roundballers have a lot of pride, and they don't count themselves out of the running for the title.

Rebounding and defense will be the key to victory for Circleville. Quickness and depth seem to be the strong points of this year's team, while experience looms as the biggest threat. Robin Martin is the only full-time returning starter, while Doug Radabaugh, Kris Kline, John Ankrom, and Perry Hoskins have all seen spotted varsity action.

Coach Lawhorn said he is depending on scoring from the guards, and he hopes that the team will get better as experience is gained throughout the season.

Madison Plains returns all but one varsity player to its '73-'74 roster. Good size and fast breaks will provide the power of the Golden Eagles' attack. They could possibly be the darkhorse team in the League.

Greenfield McClain sports players who have very little varsity experience. The strength of the McClain Tigers may come from last year's 13-5 reserve team, so improvement will be important for Greenfield as the season progresses.

Coach Lawhorn believes the race will be tight. He stated that whoever wins the league will have to win their home games.

Junior High Welcomes New Teacher

VERNETTE RHODES

By SHERRI SMITH

Miss Vernetta Rhoades is the new vocational home economics teacher at Circleville Junior High School. She is formerly from Brecksville, in the Cleveland area. She now resides here in Circleville on Lewis Ave.

Miss Rhodes began teaching in February, 1973, after receiving her B.A. in home economics at Otterbein College, where she majored in secondary education. She also attended Akron University, where she received her vocational certificate. While in college she belonged to Rho Kappa Delta Sorority and American Home-Economics Association.

She enjoys sewing, cooking and knitting in her spare time.

When asked her opinion of Circleville, she stated, "I like the warmth that the parents have shown toward me as I make home visits."

Miss Rhodes believes vocational home economics has something to offer everyone, whether male or female. She says, "Today's youth is a promise of tomorrow."

She plans to begin working toward her masters degree this summer at Akron University.

Eight Girls Chosen To Be Basketball Statisticians

By CINDY SIMS

Does it take a lot of concentration and hard work to be a basketball statistician? "Yes" was the answer of all the 1973-1974 basketball statisticians. Eight girls were chosen for these duties by Varsity Coach John Lawhorn and Reserve Coach Dennis Stewart. The statisticians keep such individual statistics as rebounds, turnovers, assists, big D's, and shot locations on both the reserve and varsity players.

These girls include senior Vickie Hott. Vickie lives at 126 Pleasant St. with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hott. Vickie is also active in SOS, FSA, and Student Council.

Another senior, Suzanne Lipko, resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lipko at 557 Northridge Road. Suzanne is active as president of FSA.

Senior Kathy Logan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mearle Logan, who reside at 523 Tower Court. Kathy is captain of the Tigerettes in the CHS marching band. She is also a member of GAA and the girls' basketball team.

Amy Woods, also a senior, lives at 575 Lancaster Pike with her parents Mr. and Mrs. John Woods. Amy is a member of GAA, the annual staff, Latin Club, and Student Council.

One of two juniors chosen is Leigh Hritz. Leigh is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hritz, who live at 516 Forest Drive. Leigh is active in Student Council, GAA, EMS, UMYF, Science Club and Curtain Callers.

Junior Audrey May resides at 525 Edgewood Drive with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Ralph May. Audrey spends her time in GAA, EMS, Curtain Callers, Science Club, Student Council, and 4-H.

Molly Hamrick, a sophomore, lives with her parents Mr. and Mrs. George Hamrick at 420 Glenmont. Besides

Ninth Graders Spent The Week Taking GATB

All ninth grade students at Circleville Junior High have completed tests this week called the GATB (General Aptitude Test Battery). Mrs. Evelyn Raiston and Mrs. Sharon Wilamowsky, guidance counselors at the junior high school, are co-ordinators of the test. They are being assisted by Mrs. Doris Gillespie and Mr. Richard Fisher, guidance counselors at Circleville High School.

The GATB is a multiple aptitude test developed by the United States Employment Service in 1945, and was later released to state and local Employment Service offices for general use. In 1960, the GATB was released in Ohio to secondary schools for use with ninth and tenth grade students.

Special training by all counselors was necessary before this test could be administered by our school system. This training was conducted by the Ohio Division of Guidance and Testing.

The test is divided into two parts. The first part is a paper and pencil test that covers general learning ability, clerical perception, motor coordination and form perception. The second part involves the use of apparatus needed to measure manual dexterity and finger dexterity.

The Basic purpose of this test is to provide students with information that may help them formulate individual educational and vocational goals and make related decisions.

These tests are machine scored by the Ohio Testing Service and each student receives a print-out of his test results.

The junior high school counselors do group and individual interpretations with the students after test scores are received.

"We can use these scores to compare them with related educational and occupational aptitude patterns that have been found within the various worker trait groups on the various levels of test performance," said Mrs. Gillespie.

Fade-Out Is The New Look

By MARGARET MERRILL and CONNIE FORREST

"Do ya dig my faded blue jeans?"

Probably everybody has noticed the new fad of blue jeans lately—faded to look worn and comfortable.

According to the Deb Shop, those faded blue jeans are bleached by the factory, or some are even picked up at rummage places. These are "recycled" into hats, purses, skirts, or just about any type of clothing one can imagine.

The cost of these clothes is sometimes expensive because there is a shortage of cotton denim in the United States. They are also in a great demand by everyone. In Russia, where jeans are a luxury, a person would have to pay up to $300 for a pair of American blue jeans.

The factories usually bleach the jeans four or five times. They also have tie-dye processes, according to a spokesman from The Other Place. Swan Cleaners will do jean fading for a small charge, and this is quite popular in Columbus.

"Buyers in New York have been sending us all kinds of literature on how popular fade-outs are, anything from casual blue jeans to the ritziest fade-out formal," stated Debbie Chandler, buyer for The Other Place.

Coach Lawhorn Says League Is Balanced

By RICK BUMGARNER

"To sum up the SCOL this year, I would use the word balanced."

This is how Coach Lawhorn expressed his views on the basketball teams in the SCOL.

Miami Trace and Washington Court House seem to be favorites for the crown. The Fayette County "Titans" have both the size and the experience needed to become champions.

Miami Trace has the inside track as three starters from last year's 16-8 championship team are back. The nucleus of the "Panther Power" will be six-foot-six center Dave Persinger, forwards Randy Reiber and Dave Steinhof, and guards Phil Skinner and Steve Mowery. With these men Trace has a well-balanced attack.

Washington Court House is another team which has size and scoring punch. Wallace and Knisely are the big guns for Court House. The Blue Lions also start two outstanding sophomore players, Phillips and Byrd, so they could get better as the season progresses.

The Indians from Hillsboro have three returning starters from last year's team, including All-SCOL guard Kevin Bailey and two six-foot-two forwards. Title hopes are high in Indian Country, but the lack of a big man may be the downfall of the team.

Unlike Hillsboro, Wilmington's strength lies in its returning center, six-foot-two Randy Reeder. This big man not only can rebound, but he also has excellent one-on-one moves. The

"Gale" also combines excellent ball-handling with quickness, which makes them a definite threat to upset anyone. The Tiger team from Circleville hasn't been picked as a top contender in the SCOL. However, Coach Lawhorn's roundballers have a lot of pride, and they don't count themselves out of the running for the title.

Rebounding and defense will be the key to victory for Circleville. Quickness and depth seem to be the strong points of this year's team, while inexperience looms as the biggest threat. Robin Martin is the only full-time returning starter, while Doug Radabaugh, Kris Kline, John Ankrom, and Perry Hoskins have all seen spotted varsity action.

Coach Lawhorn said he is depending on scoring from the guards, and he hopes that the team will get better as experience is gained throughout the season.

Madison Plains returns all but one varsity player to its '73-'74 roster. Good size and fast breaks will provide the power of the Golden Eagles' attack. They could possibly be the darkhorse team in the League.

Greenfield McClain sports players who have very little varsity experience. The strength of the McClain Tigers may come from last year's 13-5 reserve team, so improvement will be important for Greenfield as the season progresses.

Coach Lawhorn believes the race will be tight. He stated that whoever wins the league will have to win their home games.

State Solons Join Energy Saving

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The energy crises reached into chambers of the Ohio House of Representatives in recent days. Typically, the issue was resolved by compromise.

To conserve energy, heat was turned off in the House on a chilly morning. By 10 a.m., clerks were shivering.

The full House was due to convene in an hour but it was decided to leave the heat off.

To offset the chill, the chamber was warmed by turning on glaring television lights shortly before the session.

No one computed whether any energy was saved.

Columbus residents hampered in their daily travels by a strike of city bus drivers found one bit of sunshine. They could park their autos in busstop zones so long as they maintained legal distance from intersections and fire hydrants.

Some of the 2,000 persons attending the campaign kickoff brunch in James A. Rhodes' drive to return to the governor's office indicated they were there out of loyalty rather than enthusiasm.

One congressman, who asked not to be named, said: "I owe him. He was there when I needed him to help build highways and schools in my county."

Several Republican congressmen attended the $25-per-ticket box chicken rally.

Several diners said Rhodes' 20-minute speech failed to get the applause and shouts usually attending a campaign kickoff. Rhodes outlined the issues as he saw them in general terms. The lack of highway construction under Democrats was a main criticism.

Rhodes, 64, appears not to have an inside track for state party support.

However, various polls have favored Democratic incumbent Gov. John J. Gilligan over the former chief executive.

Rhodes' only opposition so far is State Rep. Norman A. Murdock of Cincinnati.

Some legislators who helped sponsor Rhodes' programs during his eight years as governor were at the rally.

They include Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray, R-3

Church Briefs

There will be one worship service this Sunday at Trinity Lutheran Church. Dr. Fred Meuser, president of the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Columbus, will be speaker for the 10th anniversary celebration of the new church building. Sunday School begins at 9 a.m., the worship service at 10:15 and a covered-dish dinner at noon. Senior Luther League meets 6 p.m. in the home of Lisa Weller, 832 Pershing Drive. Church council plans to meet 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the church parlor. A church planning meeting will be held 8 p.m. Wednesday in the parlor.

"God's Eternal Purpose" is the sermon theme selected for Sunday at First Presbyterian Church. Westminster Fellowship will meet 6:30 p.m. Sunday at the church.

Good Shepherd United Methodist Men's Christmas program will be held Tuesday at the Service Center. A covered-dish dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m. The Rev. Doyné Wiggins will be guest speaker.

The sermon theme for Sunday morning at First Baptist Church is "Great Songs For Christmas." During the 9 a.m. Sunday doughnut breakfast church directories will be distributed. A business conference is planned for 7 p.m. Wednesday at the church. A special choir practice will be held 6:45 p.m. Thursday.

Radio Call Brings Hunt

PRINCETON, Kentucky (AP) — What was thought to be a pilot's distress call was heard over a child's walkie-talkie in Hopkinsville Wednesday night, and a search was under way this morning for a possible downed aircraft in Caldwell County.

So far, three Army helicopters, sheriff's deputies, civil defense workers and state police haven't received any confirmation of an accident. The Federal Aviation Administration says it has no reports of planes missing in the area.

The search covered an area from three to five miles south and southwest of Princeton. Mrs. James Welch said she and her children heard a man call "Mayday" and ask listeners to call Ft. Campbell Army Airfield. The voice said a crashlanding was necessary. A later message reported a safe landing.

The State of Ohio had a rough time trying to avoid mnemonics in the naming of its new 41-story office building in downtown Columbus. The only thing that saved the day was the word "the."

Mnemonics is the use of formulas or gimmicks to aid the memory.

Joseph J. Sommer, director of the Ohio Department of Administrative Services rejected two names early in the game. One was the new State Office Building, which probably would have been known as the new SOB, and the State Legislative Office Building, which would have been SLOB.

Gov. John J. Gilligan finally made the choice: The State Office Tower. Drop the "the" and it comes out Sot.

NEW YORK (AP) — About
66.2 million homes in the United States have one or more TV sets, says the A.C.
Nielsen ratings company. It estimates the average household watches more than six hours of TV each day.

Question: How much would it ease the current power crisis if we cut down on our television viewing by just one hour each day?

Experts say there's no ready answer. It depends on where you live, the severity of your area's power shortage and its type of power. The savings could be large, small or moderate.

Right here in Fun City, the energy savings from a one-hour-a-day TV turnoff alone could be substantial, according to the Consolidated
Edison Co., which supplies
New York's electricity.

Con Ed says it generates 70 per cent of this electricity by burning oil, and notes there's a severe shortage of oil here and elsewhere in the U.S.
because of the Arab oil cutoff.

Now, the Nielsen ratings
people say there's about 4 million black and white color TV sets—the latter require far more power to operate than the former—in New York City.

Con Ed calculates that if all the owners of these sets cut just one hour off their regular viewing schedule each day for a year, they'd reduce the city's need for oil by 630,000 barrels in that year.

Taking a different approach, what about suggesting the networks trim their evening schedules by,
say, an hour or half hour, with the idea of encouraging viewers to turn off their sets earlier each night and thus help ease the current power crisis?

The networks take a very dim view of any suggested dimout, although it must be said in their defense they didn't summon the man with the butterfly net when we asked about program cutbacks.

CBS simply said it has no
plans for any cutbacks.
"While we are keenly aware of the energy shortage and the need to conserve power," said ABC, "we are not planning to cut back any of our news or entertainment programming at this time."

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — About
66.2 million homes in the United States have one or more TV sets, says the A.C.
Nielsen ratings company. It estimates the average household watches more than six hours of TV each day.

Question: How much would it ease the current power crisis if we cut down on our television viewing by just one hour each day?

Experts say there's no ready answer. It depends on where you live, the severity of your area's power shortage and its type of power. The savings could be large, small or moderate.

Right here in Fun City, the energy savings from a one-hour-a-day TV turnoff alone could be substantial, according to the Consolidated
Edison Co., which supplies
New York's electricity.

Con Ed says it generates 70 per cent of this electricity by burning oil, and notes there's a severe shortage of oil here
and elsewhere in the U.S.
because of the Arab oil cutoff.

Now, the Nielsen ratings
people say there's about 4 million black and white color
TV sets—the latter require far more power to operate
than the former—in New York City.

Con Ed calculates that if all the owners of these sets cut just one hour off their regular viewing schedule each day
for a year, they'd reduce the city's need for oil by 630,000
barrels in that year.

Taking a different approach, what about suggesting the networks trim
their evening schedules by,
say, an hour or half hour, with
the idea of encouraging
viewers to turn off their sets earlier each night and thus help ease the current power crisis?

The networks take a very dim view of any suggested dimout, although it must be said in their defense they didn't summon the man with the butterfly net when we asked about program cutbacks.

CBS simply said it has no
plans for any cutbacks.

"While we are keenly aware of the energy shortage
and the need to conserve power," said ABC, "we are not planning to cut back any of our news or entertainment
programming at this time."

1,500 Attend Annual 4-H Honor Barbecue

Over 1,500 persons attended the annual 4-H Barbecue held Thursday in the Coliseum, Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Sponsored by area business and industry, it is the end of 4-H activities for the current year. Special awards announced include the Friends of 4-H, Heart Award and Service Award.

Friends of 4-H this year are county commissioners Wayne Hines, Dick Tootle, Bob Liston and Dorothy Hamrick, wife of county agriculture extension agent George Hamrick.

The Heart Award was presented to Jackie Jones and the Service Award to John Schein. These awards go to the girl and boy who contribute the most to the 4-H program through their activities and efforts.

Buckeye Leader awards went to Susan Hillman and Bonnie Bolender and John Day.

Honor clubs this year are Alice's Angels, Buttons and Bowls Sr., Logan Elm Sunny Sewers, Saltcreek Sew and Serve, Scioto Mod Menders, Stir and Chatter, Stylish Stitchers, Darby Fine and Dandy, Future Farmers of Monroe, Nature Seekers, Orient Roadrunners, Pickaway Beef and Sheep, and Saltcreek Livestock.

Dudley Carpenter, a member of the 4-H Barbecue Committee, welcomed those present. The pledge to the flag and the 4-H pledge were given by Scott Harmount and Stew Jones.

Doug Martin, the Pickaway County Fair talent winner, provided the entertainment.

Milligan Speaks To Rotarians

Guest speaker at the Thursday luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club was William Milligan. Milligan is the U.S. District Attorney for Southern Ohio.

As a former Rotarian, he has served in Uruguay. While there, he gave talks to local Rotary Clubs and high schools. Most of his lectures were, of course, in Spanish.

Milligan talked to local Rotarians about the office of the Federal District Attorney and the 12 assistants under him. The many facilities at his disposal are the assistance of the FBI in the work done by the District Attorney's office.

Guests at the meeting at the L-K Restaurant were Bob Williams, president of the Ohio Society of Easter Seals and Karl Hermann. Hermann was awarded a prize for answering the question posed concerning the monthly publication, Rotary.

Glenn Readies Senate Candidacy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Former astronaut John Glenn will announce his candidacy for the U.S. Senate at a news conference at 10 a.m. Monday in Cleveland, an aide said today.

After the announcement, Glenn will begin a week-long tour of the state, the aide said.

Glenn and Howard M. Metzenbaum, a Cleveland businessman, will compete for the Democratic nomination for the Senate seat being vacated by Sen. William B. Saxbe, R-Ohio.

Lt. Gov. John W. Brown is an announced Republican candidate.

Metzenbaum defeated Glenn in the Senate primary in 1970.

More than 10 million gallons of sulfuric acid will be used to fill the 41 million automobile and truck batteries sold this year, says the U.S. Industrial Chemicals Co.

Massillon Attorney Slain In Bahamas

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — An attorney from Massillon, Ohio, was stabbed to death in his hotel room Wednesday night when he apparently surprised thieves, police reported.

The body of Paul Howell, 50, was discovered by his wife and friends. He had been stabbed repeatedly in the chest and his throat was slashed, police said.

Howell was one of 135 persons from Ohio attending a bar association convention here.
